

MENTIONED IN BRIEF

Town Talk and Neighborhood Notes Tersely Told

MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST

Gleaned From Various Sources—Little Points Picked Up By Vigilant Reporters.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Spriggs moved from this place to Altoona yesterday.

A little girl came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner on Bedford Street Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Carrie Dallard of Mann's Choice will hold her Spring Opening next Tuesday and Wednesday, April 6 and 7.

Quite a few Bedford people changed their places of residence yesterday. The day was an ideal one for moving.

Urban Smith of Rainsburg, engineer at the ice plant, has moved into one of the "cottages," owned by D. W. Prosser.

J. C. Bortz of Cumberland Valley was in town Wednesday looking after improvements to his property on West Pitt Street.

While logging at a sawmill in West Providence Township Albert Ritchey had the misfortune to break his leg on Tuesday.

The millinery store of Mrs. Ella Gichrist is filled with beautiful spring millinery for the opening today and tomorrow.

The new and attractive windows at the Metropolitan Clothing and Shoe House are but an index to the interior of the store.

Mrs. John B. McLaughlin of North Richard Street and Mrs. S. F. Gates of East Penn Street have been on the sick list the past week.

An entertainment will be held at the Imletown school, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 7 and 8. All cordially invited. Admission 10 cents.

A large number of young people from Bedford and neighboring towns attended a delightful party at the home of Miss Bertha Souser at Napier last evening.

Lieut. and Mrs. F. A. Metzger entertained the regimental officers and the officials of Co. H. at their home on East John Street after the annual inspection Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beard, of Longmont, Colo., are rejoicing over the arrival of a son at their home last week. Mrs. Beard was Miss Etta Bowers, formerly of Bedford.

D. W. Snyder (Philip's Boy), editor of the Cumberland Alleganian, stopped off in Bedford on Wednesday, having attended the funeral of his brother, John F. Snyder, at Clearville.

Next Wednesday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock members of the A. M. E. Zion Church will present the three-act comedy "Maidens all forlorn with their eyes on the Doctor." Admission 15 cents.

The Wickersham school in Bedford Township, of which Miss Zora Mower is teacher, contributed $5 toward the hospital fund. This was omitted from the list recently published.

E. H. Newbury of Mifflin has been appointed master mechanic of the P. R. Cars at State Line, to succeed C. D. Barrett who has been promoted to a similar position in the shops at Wilmington, Del.

E. Howard Blackburn has been quite ill this week with a severe attack of acute indigestion. W. S. Lysinger, who has been suffering with rheumatism for some time, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Margaret Lynch, who boards at the Union Hotel, was stricken with paralysis last Saturday but is somewhat improved at this time. Her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Keedy of Hagerstown, Md., is with her.

The members and friends of the Bedford Methodist Episcopal Church are cordially invited to an informal reception to be held in the parsonage Friday evening, April 2, from 8 to 10 o'clock, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Biddle.

Mrs. Eve Beegle, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Lysinger, on East Penn Street, celebrated her 88th birthday anniversary on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Beegle was given a postcard shower by her many friends, receiving about 125 handsome cards from different sections of the country.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY

Former Bedford Countian Kills Child and Self—Wife Wounded.

Saturday evening of last week Harry C. Smith, aged 31, a motor-man living at Sheraden, having wounded his wife and killed his son, drove a bullet into his own brain.

Smith was a son of Dr. J. T. Smith of Chaneyville but has resided about Pittsburg for some years. Though an excellent provider, he had fits of extreme jealousy, and it was during one of these spells that he drank freely and returning home quarreled with his wife about going to a theatre. He fired twice at her, one bullet grazing her head. She locked herself in a room, and being unable to carry out his purpose of death there, he hastened to a house a block away where he called his two children. His daughter, eight years old, seeing the situation ran back into the house, but his son, six years old, responded to the call and went to his father's side, when Smith drew a revolver and shot him through the head, then turned the pistol to himself and drove a bullet into his own disordered brain, falling by the side of his prostrate son. Smith died in a few minutes and the son, Richard, died an hour later.

Dr. Smith of Chaneyville went to Pittsburg to identify the body of his son.

The dead man left two notes in which he stated that "too much mother-in-law" and family quarrels led to the tragedy.

Richard Heming

Richard Heming, an aged and respected citizen of South Bedford Township, died at his home near this place on Sunday, March 28, after a short illness from paralysis, at the age of 72 years, one month and six days.

He was a son of Thomas and Rachel (Cessna) Heming and was born in Cumberland Valley on February 22, 1837. On December 28, 1856, he was married to Miss Sophia Price, who with six children, survives. Mrs. Julia Price of Friendsburg, Md., Mrs. Ross E. Rose, George B. James A. and Francis A., of Cumberland Valley, and Charles of Bedford Township. He also leaves one brother, Joseph Heming of Imletown.

Deceased was a life-long Democrat, held the positions of School Director and Supervisor of his township, and was a good citizen. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Downes in St. Thomas' Catholic Church, of which he was a member, Tuesday morning. Interment in the Catholic Cemetery.

Mrs. Nancy Coveney

Mrs. Nancy Coveney died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Naughton, in Cumberland on Thursday, March 25, at the age of 86 years. Her husband, William Coveney, died a number of years ago.

One son and two daughters survive, as follows: Dennis Coveney of Everett, division superintendent of the U. S. Leather Company; Mary J., wife of W. H. Naughton, and Miss Margaret Coveney, of Everett.

The body was brought to this place Monday morning and services were held in St. Thomas' Catholic Church, Rev. William E. Downes officiating. Interment in the cemetery west of Bedford.

Miss Cora Mickey

Miss Cora Mickey, daughter of the late James Mickey of this county, died at the Johnstown City Hospital on Monday, March 29, after a short illness, at the age of 19 years.

Deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jennie Mickey, one brother, Ward of Point, and five sisters: Carrie, Jessie, Mildred, Sarah and Helen. The body was taken to Point, where services were held in the United Evangelical Church yesterday morning. Rev. J. C. Powell conducted the services. Interment was made in the Union Cemetery.

The property of Etta Gibboney at Saxton was sold at assignee's sale on Saturday and purchased by Lewis Kelley, who expects to reside in it, for $1,700. The Kelley farm was recently purchased by the Saxton Vitified Brick Company.

At the regular monthly meeting of Bedford Springs Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, last Friday evening, Mrs. Jennie Wood, District Deputy Grand Master, was in attendance and demonstrated some of the degree work. Mrs. Wood and the local members of the order were pleasantly entertained after the meeting by Past Worthy Matron, Mrs. Simon H. Self.

M. E. MINISTERS

Appointed at Conference—Rev. Biddle Returns to Bedford.

The assignment of ministers for the coming year was made at the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal Conference, in session at Harrisburg, on Tuesday. Those for this county are as follows: Presiding Elder, Juniata District, Benjamin H. Mosser of Huntingdon; Alum Bank, James W. Chambers; Bedford, F. W. Biddle; Clearville, Jonathan Guldin; Everett, John R. Van Pelt; Hopewell, William W. Reese; Ray's Hill, Charles F. Weise; Riddlesburg, Richard H. Colburn; Saxton, Edwin L. Eslinger; Schellsburg, George W. King; Wolfburg, Albert S. Luring.

Other ministers, who are well-known in the county, have been placed as follows: Salladsburg, Frank W. Rohrer; Williamsport, H. C. Pardoe, Joshua K. Lloyd; Mt. Union, George Leidy; New Bloomfield, E. C. Keboch; Tyrone, J. Ellis Bell; Wilburton, M. J. Runyan; Altoona, J. K. Knisely; Clearfield, Morris E. Swartz; Coalport and Ironva, W. A. Lepley; Milesburg and Unionville, Richard S. Oyler; Shawville, O. B. Poulson; Superintendent Harrisburg District, W. W. Evans; Supt. Williamsport District, Emory M. Stevens; Austin, Elmer E. Harter; Jersey Shore, A. R. Miller; St. Mary's, William E. Karns; Huntingdon, J. S. Souser; Vira, Ivan L. Snyder; Jeaneville, Elton H. Wallace; Reedsville, William J. Sheaffer; Martinsburg, H. K. Ash.

John F. Snyder

John Fletcher Snyder died at his home in Monroe Township Friday evening, March 26, aged 65 years, six months and eight days. His funeral took place at Stephen's Chapel, near Mattie, Sunday forenoon. Rev. James W. Trimbath of Everett preached the funeral sermon, basing his remarks on the words, "The time is short," found in the 29th verse, 7th chapter of First Corinthians. He impressed all with the fact that time is short, but long enough to give each time to do good.

Deceased leaves a widow whose maiden name was Barbara Ellen Mearkle, daughter of the late Bartley Mearkle of Monroe Township. He also leaves seven grown sons and three daughters, as follows: Baltzer, Owen, William, Philip, George F., Conda W., Eli A., Mrs. Lucy Garlick of Mattie, Mrs. Jane May of Robinsonville, and Miss Caroline at home.

Mr. Snyder was a son of the late Philip and Mary Fletcher Snyder, of Clear Ridge. His oldest sister, Mrs. Caroline Barkman of Clearville, survives and three brothers: David of Clearville, Daniel W. of Cumberland, and Ex-Commissioner Baltzer Snyder of Bedford. He was one of Monroe Township's substantial farmers whose word was as good as his bond, and was never known to turn anyone away hungry who knocked at his door.

The pall bearers at his funeral were: Nathan E. Clabaugh, George T. Fletcher, James E. Pennell, George Smith, John F. Layton and Martin A. Barkman. Interment was made in the cemetery connected with the church where the funeral was preached and of which he was a member for many years. A very large concourse of people attended the funeral.

Mrs. Ellis N. Kremer

Mrs. Sallie E., wife of Rev. Dr. Ellis N. Kremer, pastor of Salem Reformed Church of Harrisburg, died at her home in that city last Thursday, March 25, after a lengthy illness. Death was very unexpected as it was thought she was improving.

Deceased was a daughter of Hiram B. and Frances Swarr and was born in Lancaster, her father being a member of the bar of that county. She was married to Rev. Ellis N. Kremer, who was then pastor of the Reformed Church at this place. In 1887 Dr. Kremer was called to Harrisburg, where they have since resided. She was active in church work and will be greatly missed, not only in the church, but in the home and the community. She has many friends here who will regret to learn of her death.

Her husband and five children survive: John and Ellis N., Jr., of Harrisburg; Charles S. of New York City; Hiram of Franklin and Marshall College, and Mrs. Paul J. Locher of Philadelphia. Also a brother, Charles J. Swarr of Lancaster, and a sister, Mrs. B. F. Bausman of Enola, formerly of Cessna, this county.

GRAND CONCERT

Given by Bedford Orchestra at Rainsburg Wednesday night.

The popular Bedford Orchestra, assisted by the Juniata Quartette and Master Cloyd Doty, gave a concert in the P. O. S. of A. Hall at Rainsburg Wednesday evening of this week. A large and appreciative audience was present and a most excellent program was rendered, as follows: March—Great Divide . . . Maurice Overture—In the Land of Cotton, Whitmark . . . Keler-Bela . . . Geibel . . . Quartette . . . Suite—a Love and Passion, Messina . . . La Paloma . . . Balfour . . . Narcissus . . . Nevin . . . To the End of the World With You . . . Ball . . . Master Cloyd Doty . . . On the Banks of the Beautiful Blue Danube . . . Strauss . . . Overture—The Red Mill . . . Herbert . . . Jolly Jonathan, Prof. Phundo Basso . . . Quartette . . . Barn Dance—Rural Festival . . . Losey . . . Just Plain Folks, Stouhill, Orchestra . . . Arrangement S. H. Koontz . . . Master Cloyd Doty . . . Overture—Hunter's Joy, Greenwald . . . Dough Face . . . Beirley . . . Quartette . . . March—Two Blue Eyes . . . Morse . . . Every number on the program was encoored and all present expressed their delight at the evening's entertainment. The orchestra will give concerts at Mann's Choice and Bedford in the near future.

John J. Leppert

During the past week one of the foremost citizens of our community, John J. Leppert, was called to the Great Beyond. He was the son of John and Mary Leppert and was born on a farm near New Buena Vista on March 10, 1864, where he lived all his life and where he closed his eyes to earthly scenes on March 27, 1909.

Several years ago Mr. Leppert was married to Miss Lillian Emeigh who, with two small children and these brothers and sisters, survives: Mary, wife of Frederick Shafter, of near New Baltimore; Louise, wife of Wilbur Bortz, of near Schellsburg; Valentine of near Point, and Andrew of Altoona. His father died a number of years ago and his mother, just eighteen months prior, was laid to rest in the same cemetery. One brother, George Leppert, died several years ago.

By his death, due to pneumonia, the county has lost a good citizen, the community a kind and obliging neighbor and the home a kind husband and father, whose place cannot be filled.

The funeral services were held in the Lutheran Church in Schellsburg Monday morning, conducted by Rev. H. W. Bender. The high esteem in which he was held was attested by the large concourse of people who attended his funeral and followed the remains to their final resting place in the cemetery near Schellsburg. New Buena Vista, March 30, '09.

William Logue

William Logue died at his home in Mann's Choice on March 26, after an illness of a little over one month. He was born near New Buena Vista on March 5, 1836, and at the time of his death was 73 years and 21 days of age.

He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Mary Snoberger, three sons and six daughters, as follows: Charles K., Robert N., B. F., Grace and Anna Logue, of Pittsburg; Mrs. W. H. Sharp of Johnstown, Mrs. J. W. Heck of Cumberland, Mrs. C. F. Smith of Mann's Choice, and Miss Minnie Logue at home, also by one brother, J. W. Logue of Council Grove, Kan.; and two sisters—Mrs. Jane Post of Windber and Mrs. Ellen Null of Elk Lick. He was the father of 12 children, of whom three sons preceded him to the grave some years ago.

Mr. Logue was a consistent member of the M. E. Church and always attended faithfully. He was employed for over 34 years in the tannery at Mann's Choice, was a good citizen, a kind husband, and a loving father. He was also known to have broad and liberal views in religion, politics, and the various problems with which we are surrounded in this life.

During his illness he told his children and wife that he was not afraid to die and pass into the Great Beyond, where we enter into that haven of rest which is the reward of the faithful, and at home he was often heard singing the hymn, "There is sunshine in my soul today."

The funeral services were conducted at the M. E. Church in Mann's Choice on March 27 by Rev. Hayes, pastor of the Centre Street M. E. Church of Cumberland, Md. "S."

NATIONAL GUARDS

Inspected on Monday by Prominent Army Officers.

The spring inspection of Company H, 5th Regiment National Guards of Pennsylvania, was held in the armory Monday evening of this week by the following officials: Captain Henry Jordan of the regular army, from Governor's Island, N. Y.; Major Garner of Pittsburg, Inspector of 2d Brigade, N. G. P.; Col. Hugh S. Taylor of Bellefonte, Commanding officer of the 5th Regiment, and Major Dunkle of Huntingdon.

During the afternoon the Company was drilled by the local officers. The evening inspection was witnessed by a number of visitors.

TO SUBSCRIBERS

This week bills will be sent to all subscribers one year in arrears to May 1, and also to those whose names we will be forced to remove on April 1. Look at your tag.

The recent ruling of the Post Office Department compels us to remove names of all persons whose subscriptions are a year in arrears and this is being done the first of every month.

On "Dutch Corner" Branch

A movement is on foot in and about Queen to secure passenger train service to the summit three miles beyond Imier. The road is completed to that point. As an evidence that the desired service would be a convenience to that section it is said that ten persons on one car last Saturday would have taken the train at the summit instead of Imier had it been possible. The additional train service on the branch, recommended by the Railroad Commission, has not yet been started.

Mrs. J. Howard Brown

Mrs. Virginia S., wife of J. Howard Brown of Altoona, died in the hospital in that city on Friday, March 26, following an operation. She was born at Waterside, this county, 29 years ago and was a daughter of George Smouse of that place. On December 18, 1906, she was married to J. Howard Brown who, with her father and a half-sister, survives.

Interment was made at Martinsburg at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Charles P. Ashcom

Charles P. Ashcom, a prominent citizen of Martinsburg, died suddenly in Altoona on Tuesday, March 30, at the age of 58 years. He was secretary and treasurer of the Citizens' Electric Light, Heat and Power Company of Altoona and was held in high esteem.

Deceased was born near Everett on September 29, 1851, and when a young man located in Colorado. He returned to this state and in September 1883 was married to Miss Mary Snyder of Martinsburg. For ten years he was a bookkeeper for the Westinghouse Company at Pittsburg and four years ago moved to Martinsburg.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one brother and five sisters: Benjamin F., Miss Eliza, Mrs. Margaret Gibson, Mrs. Eli Eichelberger and Mrs. Sallie Thatcher, all of Everett, and Mrs. Dr. Griffith of Colorado. Interment was made at Martinsburg.

Ice on Monday

The work at the ice plant is nearing completion. The testings for defects in the tanks and ammonia and brine coils were completed yesterday. Everything points to the beginning of ice making on Monday.

Mr. Frank McCoy of Speelman was a caller at this office yesterday.

Mr. Graffin Lyon left Monday afternoon for Lancaster, where he has accepted a position with the engineering corps of the U. S. Geological Survey.

Among those who attended the M. E. Conference at Harrisburg recently were Messrs. Ross Lysinger and James Irwin, Dr. C. R. Grissinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Pate.

Mrs. J. Howard Feight and sons, Richard and Donald, left on Tuesday for Roanoke, Va., where they will spend some time with the former's parents.

Mrs. Joseph Steele and son Earl, who spent the past month with the former's parents, Conductor and Mrs. Frank McCreary, have returned to their home in Cumberland.

Messrs. J. B. Stultz of New Paris and son, W. A. Stultz of Johnstown, and J. W. Lint, C. H. Holderbaum and G. W. Blackburn, also of New Paris, were Saturday callers at this office.

PERSONAL NOTES

Arrivals and Departures of Residents and Visitors.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

The Column Everybody Reads—Chat About Your Friends and Neighbors—Here and There.

Mr. Edgar F. Over was home from Cumberland from Saturday to Monday.

Mr. M. F. Bollinger was here from Altoona for several days this week.

Mr. P. W. A. Middleton, a traveling salesman, spent Sunday with home folks.

Mr. Samuel Pennell of Rt. 1 Everett was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. L. B. Ferry of New Enterprise made a trip to this place yesterday on business.

Mr. Calvin Dibert of Pittsburg is a guest of his mother, Mrs. John Lee, at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bortz spent a few days this week in Cumberland and Centerville.

Mr. Levi Roudabush of St. Clairsville was a business visitor in town one day this week.

Miss Zella Gorsuch of Everett spent Sunday here with her sister, Mrs. Charles Ross.

Mr. Harold Holverstott was here from Pittsburg with friends a few days the past week.

Miss Roxie Fink of Saxton was a Sunday guest of her friend, Miss Vesta Brightbill, at this place.

Miss Judith Reynolds is in Cumberland this week on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Calton L. Bietz.

Misses Ella and Emma Colvin, of Sulphur Springs, were guests of Mrs. Mollie Reed on Wednesday.

Mr. Henry Fisher of Loyalsburg was a Tuesday guest at the home of his cousin, Mr. John R. Fisher.

Mrs. William L. Claar of Garrett, Somerset County, is the guest of relatives at this place at present.

Mr. Lyle Gates, a student in the High School, is spending this week with home folks at Hopewell.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shaffer, of Napier Township, were transacting business at this place last Saturday.

Mr. Ellis B. Davidson, a student at Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, is spending his Easter vacation with home folks.

Druggist D. Elmer Beegle of New Kensington was a recent guest of his father, Mr. John H. Beegle, in Bedford Township.

Mr. C. E. Weyant, one of Johnstown's city letter carriers, was in town on Saturday and paid us a pleasant call.

Messrs. J. F. Poorman of Schellsburg and Somers Fisher of Hyndman made a business trip to the county capital last Saturday.

Mrs. W. S. Reed returned last evening from Sulphur Springs where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Sarah May.

Atty. William M. Hall of Pittsburg was here over Sunday with his family, who are guests at the home of Capt. and Mrs. A. T. Lyon.

Messrs. Martin J. Whelstone of Schellsburg and Harry Earns of Springhouse transacted business at the county seat on Monday.

Mrs. Margaret Dech returned to her home here Monday evening after spending the winter with friends and relatives in and near Pittsburg.

Misses Nellie and Ethel Snyder, daughters of Mr. Baltzer Snyder, left yesterday for West Chester where they are attending the State Normal School.

Mrs. Catherine McMullan, who spent several months here with her son, Mr. C. G. McMullan, has returned to the home of her daughter at Hyndman.

Messrs. David Snyder of Clearville, Baltzer Snyder of Mattie, and Justice of the Peace Rembert Miller of Chapman's Run were in Bedford Monday on business.

Miss Jessie Weidner is the guest of her sister, Mrs. James E. Cleaver, South Richard Street. She will leave in a few days for Cumberland, her future home.

Mr. Gilbert L. Smith of Sand Springs, Md., is spending some time with his wife and he, too, the Misses Watson, at the home of No. 224 East Penn Street.

MAKE THIS UP

Says Many Persons Can be Made Happy Again

THE PRESCRIPTION

Tells How Any One Can Prepare Simple Home-Made Mixture, Said to Overcome Rheumatism.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice will be highly appreciated by those who suffer:

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

THE TWO CONTRACTS

By Alice V. Blair, '06

(Continued From Last Week.)

Led like a prisoner to the bar, Edna felt all the sensations of an accused criminal; all around were her fellow students, gazing at her with furtive eyes, while awestruck whispers struck the sensitive ears. Down the two broad stairways Miss Norman led the beautiful captive, who was too stunned to speak, yet the proud head was held high. At the door of the office they paused.

"Oh I cannot go in," Edna murmured, nervously clasping her heart. "You must" the stern teacher whispered as the fatal door opened and Edna was seated among those grave-faced teachers, who had brought her before a tribunal and would be her judges. Never had such sensation been known to that carefully nurtured southern girl. The awful silence, the stony stares of those immovable figures seemed to her nerve-racked brain to mock and torment her as the devil incarnate does his helpless victims. She felt like laughing aloud in sheer abandon of recklessness. Slowly the words of President Harper burned themselves into her understanding.

"Miss Earle, once more you are given the opportunity to say whether or not you are right or wrong."

Mutely the large eyes were lifted but the appeal was lost, for the secretary had bent to whisper to the president. The latter continued: "In justice to the teachers present, I will explain that since signing this contract, Miss Earle has deliberately broken every condition. She has complained to everyone and found fault with everyone. And—yet she says—nothing." The deliberate voice lacked some of the afternoon's harshness but the sting remained. There was a smirk of satisfaction on several of the teachers' faces but Herr Van Horn looked first from the president, and then to Edna, and the shadow in his eyes deepened.

"Pardon, Herr Harper, but should we not have proof that the fraulein is guilty of what she is accused?" The handsome face of the big blond German sought Edna's to convey to her a ray of hope, which turned to despair as the examination continued.

"Prof. Davis, have you any fault to find with Miss Earle, has she complained to you?"

The malicious glitter in the eyes of the Math. Prof. grew more pronounced as he answered President Harper's question. Edna had long felt that the little man bore her a grudge on account of her refusal to play tennis with him, and now he would have his revenge.

"Yes, Miss Earle complained because she wanted her Calculus three times, instead of twice a week."

"Did she give a reason?"

"Why, I believe she said she was afraid her interest would lessen, if the classes were so far apart." This admission was forced from him by the compelling gaze of Edna.

"Don't Herr Harper, it was but a request, eh?" The German wanted fair play, but stiffened perceptibly when he heard, "Herr Van Horn, have you any complaint to make against Miss Earle?"

"Nein, Herr Harper, she is one good fraulein to me, I find no fault."

As he said this the great eyes of the prisoner thumped him, while Edna wondered, "How can I ever repay that dear man?" She little knew how soon or how great would be his reward.

"Miss Seaver, what have you to say of Miss Earle's conduct?"

Slowly but surely the chain was forged as the teachers gave their evidence.

"She is not at all lady-like, is entirely lacking in breeding—I saw her fairly run down the corridor waving on high a piece of paper." The thin face of Miss Seaver looked sinister as she glanced at the now flaming countenance of the young girl. "Oh this is too much, not 'lady-like, ill bred,'—great tears overflowed her eyes, and rolled down her cheeks.

"Miss Miller, did she complain to you?" All eyes were turned to the witness for it was generally known that she was a great friend of Edna Earle's. Slowly and sadly came the answer, "She did."

With this one great blow from a friend, the ears of Edna were deaf to the rest of the proceedings, until: "Miss Earle has not only done the many things you have heard, but to my knowledge she complained to her father, and even asked him to demand certain things of me." The sarcasm in the voice was unnoticed, for by these last words of President Harper, Edna saw her two would-be comforters in their true light. Only last week she had found the unmailed letter to her father. And the seal had not been broken. She was so hurt at the falseness of the girls, that when Herr Van Horn suggested that she be given a chance to say something, her voice refused to utter a sound, and her lips to frame the words her mind pictured. How willingly she would have explained, how she longed for paper and pencil! The heart so bleeding and sore was bursting, but the time of probation being over the president closed his watch.

"Miss Earle, leave the room." The long finger of the superior pointed to the door. Edna rose but the tears so blinded her she would have stumbled and fallen had she not thrown back the curly head to see the way out.

No sooner had the door closed upon the little form than the secretary remarked, "That settles it, she either sends in a written apology, or leaves school in disgrace." The act of tossing back her head was taken as a defiant challenge, and her doom was sealed beyond hope of pardon.

The misery was continued for days. At last with a compromise on both sides, a little relenting on the part of the faculty, and a written statement which Edna had been unable to utter, matters were adjusted.

Throughout it all Herr Van Horn was Edna's staunch friend and supporter. Meeting him on the stairs one day she said:

"Herr, I want to thank you for your implicit trust, you cannot know how I appreciate your support."

The blue eyes of the German gazed on her tenderly. "Ach, meine fraulein, you little know what I would do for you," his voice trembled. "It breaks my heart to see you suffer so."

"But, Herr, I am all right now, and in time I will forget this," Edna laughingly answered.

"Yes, but there remains the sting, and what will the southern little lady think of the northerners?" The tone was solicitous, the gaze beseeching.

"Don't worry Herr, I would never class you with these men and women," and with a bright smile she tipped lightly down the stairs.

Herr Van Horn stood rooted to the spot; divers expressions chasing each other across his face, he gazed rapt on the petite figure until it was lost to view. Then he espied something white on the step below him, and hastily picking it up found it to be Edna's handkerchief, looking swiftly around to ascertain that no one was in sight he pressed the bit of lace to his lips, as he murmured, "Ach, the brave little fraulein. Had I but the right to protect her." Then he gently folded it, placed it over his heart, and sought his room.

Herr Van Horn, twenty-eight years old, a scion of one of the best families in his native land had, on completion of his studies, come to America, and now found himself teaching art in a woman's college. From the beginning of the school year he had been attracted to the beautiful southern girl, and admired her keen intellect, but it was the "court" in the office which had bound her irretrievably to him. He knew now that he loved her, not with the impetuous passion of a boy but as a man loves the woman he expects to marry. That night when he wrote his mother in far off Germany, he bared to her his heart, and disclosed a soul which brought tears to the doting parent's eyes. Then she wrote him a letter as only mothers know how to write, and when it reached her son a month later, it brought consolation to a troubled mind.

School went on as usual, some of the girls wondered, and a few asked questions, but other matters drove the incident from their minds. Even Edna Earle forgot until—

"Oh, girls! do come down to the auditorium. There is the dearest old man there with a harp!" Eleanor Harding's face was full of interest as she made this announcement at Edna's door Thanksgiving morning. All along the great halls girls hurried to hear the music. Near Edna, not far from the musician, stood Lucy Warren, who, at the conclusion of several selections, whispered to her:

"I wonder if he knows Dixie?"

The black eyes brightened. "I shouldn't wonder, let's ask him."

Quietly the two made known their desire, and when the first notes of the beloved melody struck the ears of those two southern girls, unmindful of the many towns, everything else was forgotten. Living over the days on the old plantation, Lucy caught Edna around the waist and swept her the length of the auditorium, and then there happened that which made the smallest freshman stare with astonishment. Back and forth the two girls glided, lifting skirts on high in imitation of the darky cake walk.

"Will Miss Warren and Miss Earle come to my office." The face of the president was white with emotion. Silently the two girls obeyed, and it was not until they were within the sanctum that it came to them how their conduct must appear to others.

"I cannot conceive how you two

The Heart Can't Stand Rheumatic Acid Poisoning

The Uric-O Treatment Expels the Poison From the Blood.

Those sharp, shooting pains through the chest around the region of the heart mean that poisonous uric and rheumatic acid are there ready to spring and grip tightly the muscles controlling the heart's action. Don't neglect these warnings. You must neutralize and drive these dangerous poisons from the system, or sooner or later they will overcome you.

The only true way to cure Rheumatism is to get at it from the inside with Uric-O. It acts with marvelous swiftness upon the muscles, kidneys and blood. Cleans out the sand-like deposits in the muscles, forces the kidneys to perform those duties for which they were designed and neutralizes the acid within the blood.

Uric-O is a liquid taken internally, 3 times daily, and does not contain any morphine, opium or other so-called "pain deadeners." Sciatica, Muscular, Inflammatory and Articular Rheumatism all yield readily to Uric-O.

It is sold by all druggists for 75c and $1 the bottle or you can obtain a trial bottle free by writing to The Smith Drug Co., 358 Smith Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

Edna, and now found himself teaching art in a woman's college. From the beginning of the school year he had been attracted to the beautiful southern girl, and admired her keen intellect, but it was the "court" in the office which had bound her irretrievably to him. He knew now that he loved her, not with the impetuous passion of a boy but as a man loves the woman he expects to marry. That night when he wrote his mother in far off Germany, he bared to her his heart, and disclosed a soul which brought tears to the doting parent's eyes. Then she wrote him a letter as only mothers know how to write, and when it reached her son a month later, it brought consolation to a troubled mind.

School went on as usual, some of the girls wondered, and a few asked questions, but other matters drove the incident from their minds. Even Edna Earle forgot until—

"Oh, girls! do come down to the auditorium. There is the dearest old man there with a harp!" Eleanor Harding's face was full of interest as she made this announcement at Edna's door Thanksgiving morning. All along the great halls girls hurried to hear the music. Near Edna, not far from the musician, stood Lucy Warren, who, at the conclusion of several selections, whispered to her:

"I wonder if he knows Dixie?"

The black eyes brightened. "I shouldn't wonder, let's ask him."

Quietly the two made known their desire, and when the first notes of the beloved melody struck the ears of those two southern girls, unmindful of the many towns, everything else was forgotten. Living over the days on the old plantation, Lucy caught Edna around the waist and swept her the length of the auditorium, and then there happened that which made the smallest freshman stare with astonishment. Back and forth the two girls glided, lifting skirts on high in imitation of the darky cake walk.

"Will Miss Warren and Miss Earle come to my office." The face of the president was white with emotion. Silently the two girls obeyed, and it was not until they were within the sanctum that it came to them how their conduct must appear to others.

"I cannot conceive how you two young ladies so far forget yourselves to behave in such an unseemly, extraordinary, unladylike manner." Adjectives failed President Harper, he glanced around the room in search of something stronger, but finding nothing, turned to Lucy.

"Miss Warren is young and as this is her first offence can be treated with more consideration, but Miss Earle"—the sharp tones paused, and disgust was written all over the strong face. He stood up.

"Miss Warren, I advise you never to deport yourself in such a manner, and please remember that we are not a crowd of darkies—and that you are not in Virginia now—you are excused."

He turned to Edna, "Miss Earle, I find words lost on you, but allow me to remind you that it needed but this to decide the faculty concerning your graduation in the spring. You have mocked at discipline, and make our show of dignity but a farce."

"President Harper, it was wholly unintentional, I'll assure you." Tears were not visible now, the young face was earnest, sincere.

"Not one word, I'll settle with you later." He wheeled his chair around, and Edna taking this for a dismissal, silently walked the length of the lobby, and met—Herr Van Horn coming toward her.

"What is the matter with fraulein Earle, her face so serious?" He had just come from his room and had not witnessed the recent scene.

"Herr, I'll never get a diploma. I am constantly getting into trouble," the black eyes pleadingly sought the blue, and it was with the deepest concern that Herr answered:

"Depend on me fraulein, perhaps I can help you. Will you not in me confide?"

"No Herr, you will hear soon enough, but please remember, no matter what others say, believe me, I meant no disrespect," and she held out her hand timidly.

The great hearted German clasped it with an ardor that surprised Edna, and later in her own room, she marveled at her exuberance of spirit; she even caught herself singing.

When the faculty met that night every one seemed uneasy. Already a few were acquainted with the fact that, again Edna Earle was to be open for discussion, and more than one felt sorry for the lovely impetuous girl. After disposing with all preliminary business the president said: "It is with distress that I feel compelled to bring before you the complaint that Miss Earle has once for all forfeited all claims to our leniency, and is now under censure for gross misconduct."

"But Herr Harper, what was the misconduct?" Carefully the president explained how with all malicious intent and purposes Edna had persuaded the harpist to play Dixie, and then she and another girl, he forgot to mention that the other girl started it, had dared to cakewalk before the whole assembly.

At the conclusion of his statement, there arose a discussion as to whether she should be demerited or not; the sentiment seemed divided, so the president said, "We will put it to a vote, all in favor of five demerits—"

"Herr President," Herr Van Horn had been gradually getting more excited, and now he could not resist the interruption, "I think it unfair, I see no wrong, I vote not at all."

"My dear Herr," Harper's voice cut deep, "Why is it that you uphold Miss Earle? This is not the first time by any means. Why do you stand outside the faculty?"

Then Herr was in a quandary. He wanted to shield Edna and yet what reason could he give? Suddenly a bold idea was suggested to him—he hastened on, "I will ever be with you sometimes, but I cannot see Miss Earle treated unfairly. I am her husband to be soon."

Had a bomb been thrown in their midst the corps of teachers would not have been more thunderstruck. Never before had they seen him more earnest.

In spite of his anger, President Harper allowed a little kindness to creep in his voice as he said:

"Very well, Herr Van Horn, you may go." Then it was that Herr appreciated the letter that he found on his study table.

It was nearing nine o'clock when Edna heard a timid rap on her outer door, and opening it herself, found in the deserted corridor, the imposing figure of Herr.

"Ach, fraulein Edna," he began, "I would not sleep unless I explain the wrong, I tried to help you, and den when they ask the reason, I explain I to be your husband soon; I apologize, I humble myself." He grew incoherent, but the meaning was plain to Edna, and a glad light stole into her face.

"And so, Herr, you beg my pardon for telling the faculty an untruth?" She was all animation, was happy, but wished to prolong the moment of surrender.

"Ach Fraulein Edna, it isn't true—but, Oh how I wish it was!" The appealing blue eyes were bright, and as she threw him a radiant glance, the young ladies so far forget yourselves to behave in such an unseemly, extraordinary, unladylike manner." Adjectives failed President Harper, he glanced around the room in search of something stronger, but finding nothing, turned to Lucy.

"Miss Warren is young and as this is her first offence can be treated with more consideration, but Miss Earle"—the sharp tones paused, and disgust was written all over the strong face. He stood up.

"Miss Warren, I advise you never to deport yourself in such a manner, and please remember that we are not a crowd of darkies—and that you are not in Virginia now—you are excused."

He turned to Edna, "Miss Earle, I find words lost on you, but allow me to remind you that it needed but this to decide the faculty concerning your graduation in the spring. You have mocked at discipline, and make our show of dignity but a farce."

"President Harper, it was wholly unintentional, I'll assure you." Tears were not visible now, the young face was earnest, sincere.

"Not one word, I'll settle with you later." He wheeled his chair around, and Edna taking this for a dismissal, silently walked the length of the lobby, and met—Herr Van Horn coming toward her.

"What is the matter with fraulein Earle, her face so serious?" He had just come from his room and had not witnessed the recent scene.

"Herr, I'll never get a diploma. I am constantly getting into trouble," the black eyes pleadingly sought the blue, and it was with the deepest concern that Herr answered:

"Depend on me fraulein, perhaps I can help you. Will you not in me confide?"

"No Herr, you will hear soon enough, but please remember, no matter what others say, believe me, I meant no disrespect," and she held out her hand timidly.

The great hearted German clasped it with an ardor that surprised Edna, and later in her own room, she marveled at her exuberance of spirit; she even caught herself singing.

When the faculty met that night every one seemed uneasy. Already a few were acquainted with the fact that, again Edna Earle was to be open for discussion, and more than one felt sorry for the lovely impetuous girl. After disposing with all preliminary business the president said: "It is with distress that I feel compelled to bring before you the complaint that Miss Earle has once for all forfeited all claims to our leniency, and is now under censure for gross misconduct."

"But Herr Harper, what was the misconduct?" Carefully the president explained how with all malicious intent and purposes Edna had persuaded the harpist to play Dixie, and then she and another girl, he forgot to mention that the other girl started it, had dared to cakewalk before the whole assembly.

At the conclusion of his statement, there arose a discussion as to whether she should be demerited or not; the sentiment seemed divided, so the president said, "We will put it to a vote, all in favor of five demerits—"

"Herr President," Herr Van Horn had been gradually getting more excited, and now he could not resist the interruption, "I think it unfair, I see no wrong, I vote not at all."

"My dear Herr," Harper's voice cut deep, "Why is it that you uphold Miss Earle? This is not the first time by any means. Why do you stand outside the faculty?"

Then Herr was in a quandary. He wanted to shield Edna and yet what reason could he give? Suddenly a bold idea was suggested to him—he hastened on, "I will ever be with you sometimes, but I cannot see Miss Earle treated unfairly. I am her husband to be soon."

Had a bomb been thrown in their midst the corps of teachers would not have been more thunderstruck. Never before had they seen him more earnest.

In spite of his anger, President Harper allowed a little kindness to creep in his voice as he said:

"Very well, Herr Van Horn, you may go." Then it was that Herr appreciated the letter that he found on his study table.

It was nearing nine o'clock when Edna heard a timid rap on her outer door, and opening it herself, found in the deserted corridor, the imposing figure of Herr.

"Ach, fraulein Edna," he began, "I would not sleep unless I explain the wrong, I tried to help you, and den when they ask the reason, I explain I to be your husband soon; I apologize, I humble myself." He grew incoherent, but the meaning was plain to Edna, and a glad light stole into her face.

"And so, Herr, you beg my pardon for telling the faculty an untruth?" She was all animation, was happy, but wished to prolong the moment of surrender.

"Ach Fraulein Edna, it isn't true—but, Oh how I wish it was!" The appealing blue eyes were bright, and as she threw him a radiant glance, the young ladies so far forget yourselves to behave in such an unseemly, extraordinary, unladylike manner." Adjectives failed President Harper, he glanced around the room in search of something stronger, but finding nothing, turned to Lucy.

"Miss Warren is young and as this is her first offence can be treated with more consideration, but Miss Earle"—the sharp tones paused, and disgust was written all over the strong face. He stood up.

"Miss Warren, I advise you never to deport yourself in such a manner, and please remember that we are not a crowd of darkies—and that you are not in Virginia now—you are excused."

He turned to Edna, "Miss Earle, I find words lost on you, but allow me to remind you that it needed but this to decide the faculty concerning your graduation in the spring. You have mocked at discipline, and make our show of dignity but a farce."

"President Harper, it was wholly unintentional, I'll assure you." Tears were not visible now, the young face was earnest, sincere.

"Not one word, I'll settle with you later." He wheeled his chair around, and Edna taking this for a dismissal, silently walked the length of the lobby, and met—Herr Van Horn coming toward her.

"What is the matter with fraulein Earle, her face so serious?" He had just come from his room and had not witnessed the recent scene.

"Herr, I'll never get a diploma. I am constantly getting into trouble," the black eyes pleadingly sought the blue, and it was with the deepest concern that Herr answered:

"Depend on me fraulein, perhaps I can help you. Will you not in me confide?"

"No Herr, you will hear soon enough, but please remember, no matter what others say, believe me, I meant no disrespect," and she held out her hand timidly.

The great hearted German clasped it with an ardor that surprised Edna, and later in her own room, she marveled at her exuberance of spirit; she even caught herself singing.

When the faculty met that night every one seemed uneasy. Already a few were acquainted with the fact that, again Edna Earle was to be open for discussion, and more than one felt sorry for the lovely impetuous girl. After disposing with all preliminary business the president said: "It is with distress that I feel compelled to bring before you the complaint that Miss Earle has once for all forfeited all claims to our leniency, and is now under censure for gross misconduct."

"But Herr Harper, what was the misconduct?" Carefully the president explained how with all malicious intent and purposes Edna had persuaded the harpist to play Dixie, and then she and another girl, he forgot to mention that the other girl started it, had dared to cakewalk before the whole assembly.

At the conclusion of his statement, there arose a discussion as to whether she should be demerited or not; the sentiment seemed divided, so the president said, "We will put it to a vote, all in favor of five demerits—"

"Herr President," Herr Van Horn had been gradually getting more excited, and now he could not resist the interruption, "I think it unfair, I see no wrong, I vote not at all."

"My dear Herr," Harper's voice cut deep, "Why is it that you uphold Miss Earle? This is not the first time by any means. Why do you stand outside the faculty?"

Then Herr was in a quandary. He wanted to shield Edna and yet what reason could he give? Suddenly a bold idea was suggested to him—he hastened on, "I will ever be with you sometimes, but I cannot see Miss Earle treated unfairly. I am her husband to be soon."

Had a bomb been thrown in their midst the corps of teachers would not have been more thunderstruck. Never before had they seen him more earnest.

In spite of his anger, President Harper allowed a little kindness to creep in his voice as he said:

"Very well, Herr Van Horn, you may go." Then it was that Herr appreciated the letter that he found on his study table.

It was nearing nine o'clock when Edna heard a timid rap on her outer door, and opening it herself, found in the deserted corridor, the imposing figure of Herr.

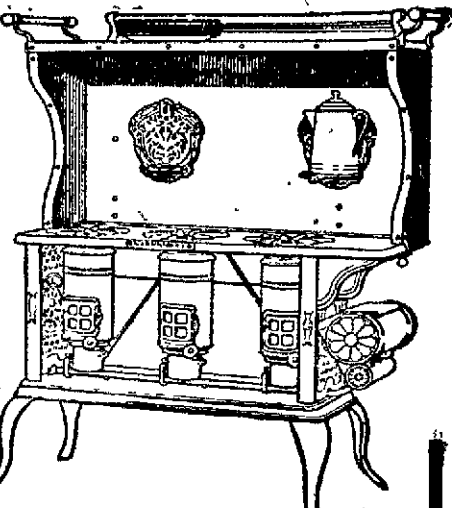

"Ach, fraulein Edna," he began, "I would not sleep unless I explain the wrong, I tried to help you, and den when they ask the reason, I explain I to be your husband soon; I apologize, I humble myself." He grew incoherent, but the meaning was plain to Edna, and a glad light stole into her face.

"And so, Herr, you beg my pardon for telling the faculty an untruth?" She was all animation, was happy, but wished to prolong the moment of surrender.

"Ach Fraulein Edna, it isn't true—but, Oh how I wish it was!" The appealing blue eyes were bright, and as she threw him a radiant glance, the

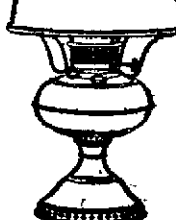

Put This Stove in Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in dog-days The is so constructed that it does not add perceptibly to the heat of a room. It differs from all other oil stoves in its substantial CABINET TOP, with shelf for warming plates and keeping cooked food hot, and drop shelves for holding small cooking utensils. Has every convenience, even to bars for towels. Threesizes. With or without Cabinet Top. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

The Rayo Lamp is the ideal lamp for family use—safe, convenient, economical, and a great light giver. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency. THE ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY (Incorporated)

SUEDE AND CRAVENETTE .OXFORDS

Have the Call With Ladies of Fashion this Spring

In the eastern cities they are quite the rage. They have much to recommend them, being both cool and comfortable and extremely swell in appearance. The shades are grey and black. We furnish them in Pumps, Sailor Ties, Button and Strap Pumps. Get in the swim, Ladies, and buy a pair.

C. G. SMITH

TENDER FEET SHOES

Baltimore and George Streets. CUMBERLAND, MD.

WAVERLY

A thin, pale oil. High real viscosity—no fictitious body. Retains its lubricating powers at high temperatures. The best oil for either air or water-cooled cars.

"Perfect Lubrication Without Carbon Deposit."

Ask your dealer—a trial will convince.

WAVERLY OIL WORKS CO., PITTSBURG, PA.

Independent Oil Refiners.

SPECIAL AUTO OIL

SEND THEM TO

FOOTER'S

Everything You Have to be Cleaned or Dyed.

Do Not Mistake the

REVOLUTIONARY TUNNEL FOUND

Whitening Skeletons of Eight Men
Found When Employee of Philadelphia Store Stumbles Upon Underground Passage.

Historians of Philadelphia are agog with excitement, stirred as they have not been for years. For yesterday, through an accident, a discovery was made, dealing with the city's part in the Revolutionary War, which promises to add data of great value to the archives of early history.

A dark, gloomy, secret passage, intricately constructed, and the bones of eight men, white and crumbling together in the gray dust on the stone-flooring, all speaking the peril in the days of British invasion, has been found leading from the foundation of Old Christ Church, far below the business houses adjoining, on Market Street.

The mystery of the disappearance of the celebrated chimneys of Old Christ Church, which from the day of Redcoats and Continentals to the present, has puzzled generation after generation of Philadelphia historians, may be cleared forever by the discovery of the underground tunnel and its mute, whitening skeletons.

The passage is blocked by a solid wall of masonry at the church end, and also the other end, which was evidently once used as a hidden exit. Evidence of a stairway, leading to the church, cut off, however, by the masonry, all point, men of research say, to the probability of the passage having been used during the troublous Revolutionary times as a means of refuge and escape. Through it, they say, the famous chimneys were spirited at night. Perhaps the eight men, whose bones give a ghastly aspect to the revelation, gave their lives that the British might not discover the passage.

Discovery Accidental

The important discovery was made entirely by accident. While working in the cellar of the building at 211-13 Market Street, which is occupied by the firm of James M. Vance & Co., an employee broke through the floor and fell into a hole. He was assisted out and nothing much was thought of the matter until Edward Duncan, another employee, happened to see that it was not a mere hole that their man had fallen into, but what looked to be an entrance of a tunnel. There was a sharp slope downward and he decided to investigate.

Entering the cavity, he crawled along on his hands and knees for a few feet and then decided to get a candle and a ball of twine, for he now was certain it was a tunnel. He took a ball of twine with three hundred feet on it and tied one end at the entrance and kept the other so that he would have a guide line to find his way back.

Tunnel Grew Larger

Gradually the tunnel grew wider and higher, and where he was at first compelled to crawl on hands and knees, he was soon able to walk upright, and before he reached the end he saw by the light of his candle that the walls were at least eight feet high in some places.

When he had used up all his twine except about ten feet, he was blocked

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evidence of impure blood may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood, thereby clearing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the case of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

by the wall of masonry, and there he found the crumbling bones of the eight skeletons.

He retraced his steps, and on his return trip he found a branch of the tunnel running off to the westward.

He also explored this, but before he got more than about thirty feet, he was blocked as before by another wall.

Find Another Entrance

He went back, following the twine all the way, and told the other store employees of what he had seen, but no one deemed it of much importance. It was not until yesterday, when another entrance to the tunnel was discovered, that the matter became public.

Immediately there was speculation as to the purpose of the tunnel. Several accounts are given as to the disappearance of the chimneys. One is that they had been removed to Bethlehem, this state, to escape their falling into the hands of the British. Another is that they had been sunk in the Delaware River, and still another account says that they were buried.

The chimneys were brought to this country in 1754, and were rung on every public occasion. Farmers came for miles from the country to hear them, and every precaution was taken to prevent the British capturing them. When the battle of Brandywine was fought, the chimneys rang out the news. As soon as it was learned positively that Howe's army was advancing on this city, the chimneys disappeared, and when the city was occupied, in September, 1777, they could not be found.

Bodies Not Buried

The skeletons in the tunnel could not have been buried, because they were lying in natural attitudes, and there was no evidence of decayed wood, which there would be if the bodies had been buried in coffins. It is suggested that these eight men may have been put down in the tunnel with the chimneys, on the supposition that they would be let out shortly, but were kept in there and died of starvation. It is known that the belief at the time that Howe's army entered the city was that they would not remain there. They did, however, stay several months.—Philadelphia Press, March 26.

Non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla

If you think you need a tonic, ask your doctor. If you think you need something for your blood, ask your doctor. If you think you would like to try Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla, ask your doctor. Consult him often. Keep in close touch with him.

We publish our formulas. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Ask your doctor to name some of the results of constipation. His long list will begin with sick-headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, thin blood, bad skin. Then ask him if he would recommend your using Ayer's Pills.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Art of Being Happy

"Cheerfulness," says Ruskin, "is as natural to the heart of man in strong health as glow to his cheek, and wherever there is habitual gloom, there must be either bad air, unwholesome food, improperly severe labor, or erring habits of life."

If children were taught that one of the great life duties is to unfold the fun-loving side of their nature, the humorous side, there would not be so many suicides, so many unhappy, discordant, miserable people, so many failures in the world.

Why shouldn't we develop the humor faculty, the fun-loving faculty, just as much as the bread-earning or any other faculty?

Why should we think it is so very necessary to spend years in going to school and college to develop other mental faculties, and yet take practically no pains whatever to develop the humorous, the fun-loving side of our nature?—Success Magazine.

You should not delay under any circumstances in cases of Kidney and Bladder trouble. You should take something promptly that you know is reliable, something like DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are unequalled for weak back, backache, inflammation of the bladder, rheumatic pains, etc. When you ask for DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, be sure you get them. They are anti-septic. Accept no substitutes; insist upon getting the right kind. Sold by all druggists.

Words to Read and Heed

Let every dawn of morning be to you as the beginning of life, and every setting sun to be to you as its close; then let everyone of these short lives have its sure record of some kindly thing done for others, some goodly strength or knowledge gained for yourselves.—Ruskin.

EAT SAUSAGES

Or Any Favorite Food Without Fear of Indigestion.

GET SOME DIAPEPSIN NOW

Distress From Dyspepsia or a Disordered Stomach Vanishes Five Minutes Later.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will occasionally take a little Diapepsin after eating.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Bilioussness, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapepsin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. Each triangle will digest all the food you can eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour.

Get a large 50-cent case of Paper's Diapepsin from your druggist and start taking today and by tomorrow you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Lincoln on Money

"Lincoln," said a Senator at the banquet in Washington, "had no great admiration for mere financial success."

"Financial success," Lincoln once said, "is purely metallic. The man who attains it has four metallic attributes—gold in his palm, silver on his tongue, brass in his face and iron in his heart."

Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. It not only heals irritation and allays inflammation, thereby stopping the cough, but it also moves the bowels gently and in that way drives the gold from the system. It contains no opiates. Sold by all druggists.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Wm. D. Druggist

Immortality

Faith in immortality cannot be acquired from another. One cannot convince oneself of immortality. In order to know faith in immortality it is necessary that it should be, and in order that it should be it is necessary to understand that your life consists in its being immortal.—Tolstoy.

Foley's Honey and Tar is a safeguard against serious results from spring colds, which inflame the lungs and develop into pneumonia. Avoid counterfeits by insisting upon having the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar, which contains no harmful drugs.—Ed. D. Heckerman.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford County, Penna.
No. 15, November Term, 1908.
Al. Subpoena, No. 5, January Term, 1909.
In Divorce.

To Adam Beltz, Respondent:

Take notice that the libellant in the above stated case, Sylvia Beltz, your wife, has filed to the aforesaid Number and Term, her libel in divorce praying the Court to grant her an absolute divorce from you, her said husband, on the grounds of wilful and malicious desertion and absenting yourself from her society without reasonable cause or excuse from the 15th day of July, A. D. 1906, hitherto. Further, you will take notice that the undersigned Master, appointed by the Court to take the testimony, find the facts and report the same to the Court together with an opinion, will sit for the purposes of his appointment in the grand jury room of the Court House in the Borough of Bedford, Pa., on Tuesday, the 6th day of April, A. D. 1909, at 1 o'clock p. m. when and where you are requested to attend.

DANIEL S. HORN, Master.
HUMPHREY D. TAPP, Mar.

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE

[Estate of Samuel B. Brown, late of Harrison Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.]

Letters of administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment, and those having claims to present the same without delay to

MRS. SADIE BROWN, Administratrix.
Rt. 1, Mann's Choice, Pa.
B. F. MADORE, Atty. Mar 12-6w

A STRAY HORSE

A black mare about 12 years old was running at large in Kimmel Township on February 18, 1909. The owner can have same by proving his property and paying for keeping. If the animal is not claimed within the time specified by law it will be disposed of in accordance with the law governing such cases.

SHANNON BOYER, Queen, Pa. March 12-2mo.

SHERIFF'S SALES

By virtue of sundry writs of F. Fa. issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford County, and to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale, at the Court House, in the Borough of Bedford, County of Bedford, and State of Pennsylvania, at one o'clock p. m., on SATURDAY, APRIL 17, 1909.

All of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described tracts of land, situated in South Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pa.:

No. 1. Bounded by Oscar Guyer, tract No. 2, and Peter Rock, containing 30 acres, more or less, having thereon erected a two-story house, barn, and other outbuildings.

No. 2. Bounded by tract No. 1, Oscar Guyer, Leah Blough, Thomas O'Neal, Nancy Horner, George Fetter and S. S. Brumbaugh, containing 42 acres, more or less.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of V. F. Clouse, defendant.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described tract of land situated in Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pa., bounded by lands of William Hunt, Simon Fisher, William Hower, Pennsylvania Lumber Company, containing 95 acres, more or less, and having thereon erected a two-story dwelling house, barn and other outbuildings.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of John F. Leonard, defendant.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described tract of land situated in West Providence Township, Bedford County, Pa., bounded by lands of George O'Neal on the east, Emerson Twigg on the west, Albert Clark on the north, Bart Wallace and Albert Clark on the south, containing 45 acres, more or less, and having thereon erected a two-story plank house, good stable and other outbuildings.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of D. M. Manspeaker, defendant.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described lot situated in Everett Borough, County of Bedford, Pa., fronting 118 feet on an alley, and extending back 160 feet to lands of Edward Stewart, adjoining D. S. Elliott's heirs on the east, and Rebecca Dibert on the west, having thereon erected a two-story plank house, small stable and other outbuildings.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Mary A. Layton, defendant.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following two tracts of land situate in East Providence Township, Bedford County, Pa., to wit:

No. 1. Bounded by lands of Jonathan Foor's heirs, public road, Samuel Foor and Francis L. Foor, having thereon erected a two-story weather-boarded house, and small stable, containing six acres, more or less.

No. 2. Bounded by public road lands of Ex-Judge Foor's heirs, James Grove and Annie N. Foor, having thereon erected a house and small stable, containing 40 acres, more or less.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Annie N. Foor or Nettie Foor, with notice to Francis L. Foor as to the 40 acres, more or less.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described tract of land situate in Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pa., bounded on the north and east by lands of Irvin Imler, on the south by S. B. Amos, and on the west by Daniel Croyle, having thereon erected a one and one-half story plank house and small outbuildings.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Benj. S. Fletcher, John B. Fletcher, Carrie L. Streightiff, Charles R. Fletcher, Samuel S. Fletcher, Percy S. Fletcher, W. W. Fletcher, and Benj. F. Fletcher, husband and children of Sarah A. Fletcher, deceased, defendants.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described tract of land situate, lying and being in Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pa.

No. 1. Bounded by lands of George M. Williams, Ambrose Crissman, Jacob Griffith, Benjamin Troutman, John C. Roberts, and others, containing 172 acres, more or less; about 150 acres cleared and under fence and the balance in timber, having thereon erected a large two-story frame house, large bank barn and other outbuildings.

No. 2. All of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to a lot of ground situate in Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., fronting 46 feet on John Street and extending back 200 feet at same width to alley, bounded on the north by John Street, on the east by R. D. Brown, on the south by an alley and on the west by Rebecca Kintz, having thereon erected a two-story frame dwelling, frame stable and outbuildings.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of J. F. L. Ellis and Mary J. T. Ellis, defendants.

ALSO, all of defendant's right, title and interest of, in and to the following described two tracts of land:

No. 1. All that certain tract of land situated in East St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pa., known as the "Fluke Tract," containing 109 acres, be the same more or less, adjoining lands of Robert M. Bridenbath on the north, John Shaffer on the east, James Arnold and Elmer Ferguson on the south, and the "James Foor tract" hereinafter described on the west.

No. 2. All that certain tract of land situated in the said Township of East St. Clair, Bedford County, Pa., known as the "James Foor tract," containing 129 acres, 9 perches, be the same more or less, adjoining land of Robert M. Bridenbath on the north, the above described "Fluke tract" on the east, and James Arnold on the south and east.

to be sold as the property of John F. L. Ellis, defendant.

TERMS:—The price for which the property is sold must be paid at the time of sale, or such other arrangements made as will be approved, otherwise the property will immediately be put up and sold at the risk and at the expense of the person to whom it was first sold, who, in case of deficiency at such resale, shall make good the same, and in no instance will the deed be acknowledged unless the money is actually paid to the sheriff. Purchasers who are lien creditors must secure a certified list of liens for the sheriff in order to apply the amount of bids or any part thereof on their liens.

ANDREW DODSON, Sheriff.
Sheriff's Office, March 24, 1909. 4t

REGISTER'S NOTICES

The following administrators', executors' and guardians' accounts have been filed in the Register's Office for confirmation in the Orphans' Court of Bedford County, Wednesday, April 21, 1909:

1. The account of John W. Morris, guardian of Daisy Harlow, a minor child of Charles Harlow, late of Southampton Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

2. The account of Charles F. Furry and Mary Furry, administrators of John B. Furry, late of Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

3. The first and final account of J. C. Stoler, executor of the last will and testament of Philip Berkstresser, late of Liberty Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

4. The account of John M. Reynolds, administrator of the estate of Victor Richter, late of Hopewell Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

5. The account of William Keller, administrator of the estate of George R. McCahan, late of the Borough of Saxton, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

6. The account of M. H. Kramer, administrator of the estate of Joseph Shroyer, late of Londonderry Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

7. The first and final account of John M. Imler, executor of the last will and testament of Alexander Corlie, late of Union Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

8. The first and final account of A. Burton Egolf, executor of the last will and testament of R. F. Tucker, late of Schellsburg Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

9. The first and final account of John M. Corley, executor of the last will and testament of Jacob Corley, late of Juniata Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

10. The first and final account of Clara M. Imler, administratrix of the estate of Mary B. Kegg, late of Rainsburg Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, and trustee to sell the real estate of the decedent for the payment of debts.

11. The account of J. Lewis O'Neal and Harry I. O'Neal, executors of the last will and testament of Henry O'Neal, late of West Providence Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

12. The account of David A. Stayer, administrator of the estate of John K. Bowser, late of Hopewell Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

13. The account of Alexander C. Burket, administrator of the estate of Albert C. Burket, late of Lincoln Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

14. The account of George F. Winters, guardian of the minor children of Minnie Winters, late of East Providence Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, under an order to sell the real estate of said deceased.

15. The account of Henry F. Logue, administrator of Elizabeth Smith, late of Londonderry Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

16. The first and final account of Leonard C. Markel, executor of the last will and testament of Simon Yontzey, late of Juniata Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

17. The first and final account of Leonard C. Markel, administrator of the estate of John P. Fisher, late of Juniata Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

18. The first and final account of J. Martin Fink, administrator of the estate of Elizabeth Putt, late of Saxton Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

19. The account of Frank Thompson, administrator of the estate of Charles W. Thompson, late of Bedford Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

20. The first and final account of Sadie Brown, administratrix of Samuel B. Brown, who was executor of the last will and testament of George H. Claycomb, late of Harrison Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

21. The account of Anna Knight, administratrix of the estate of Samuel Knight, late of Hopewell Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

22. The account of David J. King, administrator of the estate of John S. King, late of Bloomfield Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, and trustee to sell the real estate of said decedent for the payment of debts.

23. The first and final account of T. D. Iwan, executor of the last will and testament of William Baker, late of Bedford Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, and trustee to sell the real estate of the decedent for the payment of debts.

24. The fourth account of S. D. Replogle, administrator of the estate of J. L. Replogle, late of Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

25. The account of M. H. Kramer, executor of the last will and testament of Sarah Miller, late of Hyndman Borough, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.

J. B. JAMES, Register.

Mr. F. G. Frittle, Oncontia, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation, and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children, as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion.

Ed. D. Heckerman.

LEGAL NOTICE

David Long, executor of Henry Clapper, deceased, vs. Jacob Pote. Mortgage, dated April 1, 1826, recorded in the office for the recording of deeds in Bedford County in Deed Book "O," page 308.

To David Long, surviving executor of Henry Clapper, late of Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased, and the holders of the above stated mortgage:

You and each of you are hereby notified that, at a Court of Common Pleas held at Bedford in and for Bedford County, Pa., on March 23, 1909, upon petition of Jacob Z. Pote and George H. Appleman, owners of the land described in the above stated mortgage, the said Court granted a rule upon David Long, surviving executor of the last will and testament of Henry Clapper, late of Woodbury Township, Bedford County, Pa., and the holders of a certain mortgage given by Jacob Pote to the said David Long, dated April 1, 1826, and recorded in the office for the recording of deeds in Bedford County in Deed Book "O," page 308, to secure the sum of $578.59, conditioned to pay the interest thereon to Eve Clapper, widow of the said Henry Clapper, and the principal at or before the decease of the said Eve Clapper; upon a certain tract of land situate in Middle Woodbury, now Bloomfield Township, Bedford County, Pa., described as follows: "Beginning at a post by lands of William Holstinger north 2 1/2 degrees, west 193 perches to a post; thence by land of Dr. Peter Schoenberger south 72 degrees, west 197 1/2 perches to a post; thence south 21 1/2 degrees, west 156 perches to a post; thence north 79 degrees, east 115 perches to a hickory; thence south 72 degrees, east 27 1/2 perches to the place of beginning, containing 156 acres and 85 perches and allowance of six per cent. for roads," to show cause, if any there be, why the said mortgage should not be marked satisfied on the records thereof upon return of the said rule on the third Monday, the 19th of April, 1909.

This is to require you and each of you to appear in the above stated court on Monday, the 19th day of April, next, to answer the petition above recited, and, in default of compliance with this rule and the non-appearance of any person to answer the same, the said court will order, direct, and decree that satisfaction shall be entered upon the record of the said Mortgage by the Recorder of Bedford County upon payment of costs, in accordance with the prayer of the petition.

ANDREW DODSON, High Sheriff of Bedford County, March 23, 1909, 4t.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

The undersigned administratrix of John M. Suter, late of Napier Township, deceased, will sell on the premises, on MONDAY, APRIL 12, 1909, the following described real estate: A tract of land situate in Napier Township, Bedford County, Pa., adjoining lands of Joseph Hiner, John Blackburn, Jacob McCreary, and others, containing 95 acres, having thereon erected a house, barn and other outbuildings, with plenty of water and splendid fruit.

TERMS:—One-third cash, and the balance in one and two years with interest.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock p. m.

MARY E. SUTER, Administratrix.
ROBT. C. McNAMARA, Attorney. Mar 19-3t.

ASSIGNEE'S NOTICE

[Assigned Estate of John C. Nicholson of Coaldale Borough, Bedford County, Pennsylvania.]

Notice is hereby given that John C. Nicholson of Coaldale Borough, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, has made to the undersigned a deed of voluntary assignment of all the property of the said John C. Nicholson, for the benefit of his creditors. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present them duly authenticated for payment, and all persons knowing themselves indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment of the same to the undersigned.

MOSES LIPPEL, Assignee for the benefit of creditors of John C. Nicholson. Attest. E. M. PENNELL, Atty. Mar. 12-6t.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

[Estate of Daniel S. Mock, late of Snake Spring Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.]

Letters of administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment, and those having claims, to present the same without delay to

MRS. MARY ELLEN MOCK, Administratrix.
D. C. REILEY, Attorney. Feb. 26-6w

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

[Estate of James F. McElfish, late of Southampton Township, Bedford County, Pa., deceased.]

Letters of administration on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make prompt payment, and those having claims, to present the same without delay to

GERNIA

Bedford Gazette

ESTABLISHED IN 1805

S. A. VAN ORMER,
Editor and Publisher.

The Bedford Gazette is a model among country newspapers.—New York World.

The Gazette is the leading newspaper of Bedford County and its circulation is far ahead of any of its contemporaries. As an advertising medium it is one of the best in this part of the state.

Regular subscription price per year $2.00. If paid in advance $1.50. Cards of Thanks, 50c; Resolutions, $1.00.

All communications should be addressed to Gazette Publishing Co.,
Bedford, Pa.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 2, 1909.

"DOPED" FOOD BILL

By a vote of 35 to nine last Monday night at Harrisburg the Senate passed finally the "doped" food bill. What action the House may take is a matter of conjecture. The vote is said to have been brought about by vigorous lobbying on the part of wholesale merchants and the action of state officials.

Should the House pass the bill and the Governor sign it, wholesale merchants will be licensed to dose food with benzoate of soda or sulphur compounds and send it out to the retail trade, and thus to the consumers, without plainly labeling it.

The Bedford County Medical Society passed resolutions a short time ago in direct opposition to the action the Senate has taken, and Senator W. C. Miller is president of that organization, yet he was among the number of those who voted for "doped" food in that session of the Senate of March 29, 1909.

It is a Senator's privilege to change his mind. A short time ago Senator Miller voted with the enemies of "doped" food. It may be that he being a physician, has discovered that, in small quantities, benzoate of soda is not harmful, or he may have had other reasons for "facing about." Even a Justice of the Supreme Court changed his mind over night on the constitutionality of the Income Tax law passed during Cleveland's administration, hence the change of mind of Senator Miller is not so strange. But the bold fact stands out prominently that the vigorous lobby of the wholesale merchants won the day with the Senate. What of the House?

Two eminent physicians who have made a careful study of the effects of benzoate of soda upon the human system have given out the following conclusions:

Some of the compounds of benzoic acid are more poisonous than carbolic acid, even in minute quantities. The antiseptic properties of the benzoic group are very feeble.

It is impossible to tell from its effects upon one person what its effects on another would be.

If permitted to be generally used as a food preservative, even in minute quantities, the cumulative effect of benzoate of soda is certain to be deleterious.

THE SCHOOL CODE STRUCK

The School Code came near meeting its death in the House at Harrisburg Wednesday because of opposition to the enacting clause and first section.

This code was prepared by a commission made up for the most part of men high in educational circles, after making a careful study of the situation and devoting to the cause almost two years of labor. They not only made a study of American schools, but one at least, Col. William Lauder of this county, went abroad and spent considerable time studying the schools of several foreign countries that he might the more intelligently perform his duty,—a most commendable course,—and we venture the assertion that he knows more of schools and school systems, because of his careful study of the question at home and abroad, than any one of those who have it in their power to pass or kill the bill. But he is but one of the commission, which is made up of men of the calibre of Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, whose ability is known and recognized far beyond the confines of the state.

The code was not only prepared with care and ability, but it is sanctioned by educators in all parts of the state and it ought to pass. It may not be perfect in all particulars but as a whole it is a long step in advance of what we now have.

When we consider that 25 states of the union have less illiteracy than Pennsylvania we begin to realize that some steps along lines of advancement are necessary.

The presumption of some members of the House in setting up their opinions against those of the formers of the code is as ridiculous as a husbandman's placing his opinion on the value of vaccination against the medical institutions of the country. It is as true today that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread" as it was when Pope wrote his Essay on Criticism.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY.
Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON,
Notary Public.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials free.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by all Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Clark-Stuckey

At Cumberland on Wednesday, March 24, Rev. E. P. Skyles united in marriage Bernard Clark of that city and Miss Carrie Stuckey, daughter of Edward Stuckey of Rainsburg.

McCreary-Bowser

At the Reformed parsonage near Cessna Monday morning Taylor Roy McCreary and Anna Pearl Bowser both of East St. Clair Township, were united in marriage by Rev. E. A. G. Hermann.

Weaver-Ramsey

At the parsonage at Saxton on March 28, Edgar J. Weaver and Miss Minnie Pearl Ramsey were united in marriage by Rev. F. W. McGuire. They will make their future home on the farm owned by the groom near Saxton.

Miller-Keifer

Levi Miller of Pleasantville, this county, and Miss Etta Keifer of Conemaugh were married at the home of the bride Tuesday morning, March 30, by Rev. Hildebrand. After an elaborate wedding dinner the couple left for the groom's farm, where they will reside.

Snyder-Hoover

Rev. G. W. King, pastor of the Schellsburg M. E. Church, united in marriage at Harrisburg on Wednesday, March 24, S. Roswell Snyder of near Altoona and Miss L. Ioma Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hoover, of Mann's Choice. They will go to housekeeping near Schellsburg.

Replogle-Barefoot

Harry K. Replogle, of the collecting department of W. S. Aaron's store, Altoona, and whose home is in Woodbury, was united in marriage Wednesday, March 31, at high noon to Miss Viola Barefoot at the home of the latter in Alum Bank. Mr. and Mrs. Replogle will go to housekeeping within a few days in a home already prepared in Altoona.

LETTER TO GEO. T. JACOBS & BRO., Bedford, Pa.

Dear Sirs: We can't get over talking about those two houses at Lufkin, Tex., owned by Judge I. D. Fairchild.

Both houses are exactly alike and both painted at same time by J. M. Torrance.

One took 15½ gallons Devco; the other 25 gallons of another paint sold at same price.

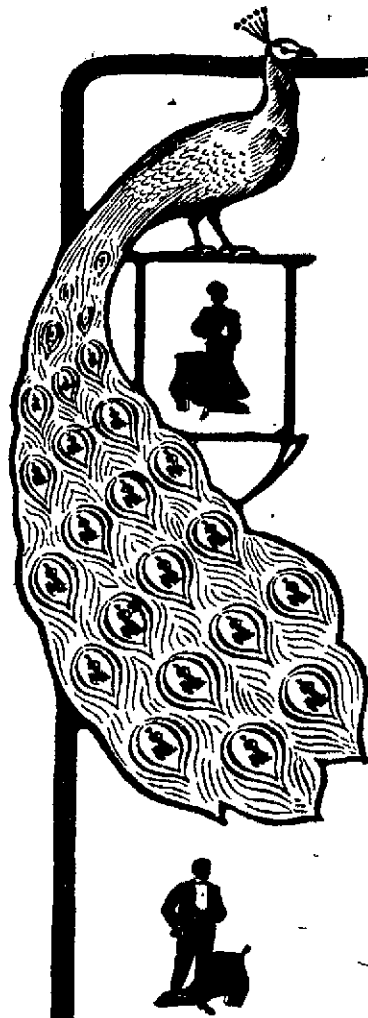

That 25 gallon paint is weak and 15 per cent. whitening; that's why it took 9½ gallons more.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVCO & CO.
P. S. Metzger Hardware and House Furnishing Co. sells our paint.

Woman's Home Companion for April

The Woman's Home Companion for April is full of Easter suggestions, spring fashions, Easter entertainments and Easter dishes. Grace Margaret Gould describes and illustrates the new styles in gowns, shirt waists, hats and in dress accessories. Fannie Merritt Farmer, the greatest cook in America, gives the recipes for many delightful spring dishes. It is a big magazine, crammed full of interesting articles, stories, illustrations and valuable information.

Cyrus Townsend Brady's new novel, "Hearts and the Highway," is begun in this issue of the Companion, and there are stories by Nellie L. McClurg, Laura Spencer Porter, Izola Forrester and Florence Morse Kingsley. The illustrations, as usual with Woman's Home Companion, are by well-known artists, and are of the very best.

Fresh and Dainty
Creations for Easterin
Men's and Women's Footwear

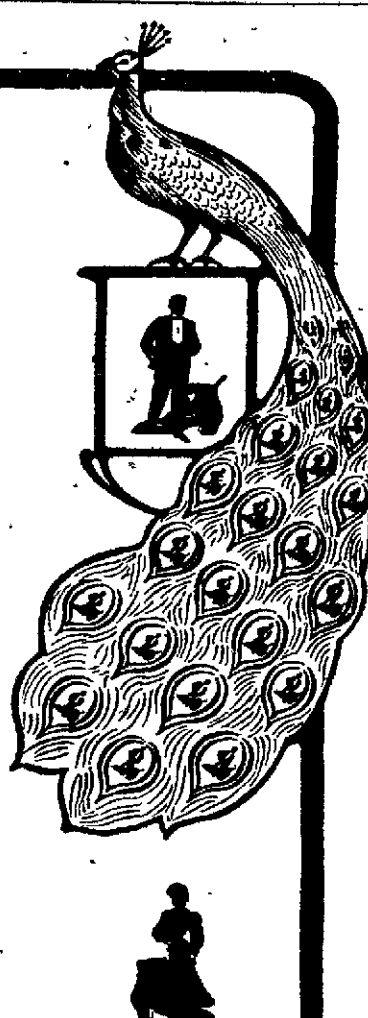

With the opening of the Spring season nearly all men and women take an increased interest in their wearing apparel. Particularly is this true of shoes, for during a good part of the winter season rubbers and overshoes have made it possible to wear shoes that weren't strictly proper. But now it's different; your shoes must "toe the mark" set by Dame Fashion; that means

WALK-OVER Shoes

$3.50 $4.00 $5.00

The Metropolitan Clothing and Shoe House

Bedford, Pa.

Spraying Demonstrations

While there is no San Jose scale in the orchard at the County Home, part of the trees will be sprayed with the lime-sulphur wash, made and applied at once. Anyone wishing to come for information relating to any part of orchard work will find the work going on April 5 and 6, or until completed.

We would like for all interested in fruit-growing to watch results at this orchard closely this season, making frequent visits, and compare the same with those of other orchards uncared for.

R. F. Lee,
Demonstrator.

HECKERMAN LETTER

A Dry Town—Another Shooting Affray—Sunday Law.

Charlotte, N. C., March 28, '09.—Some one, I don't know who, wrote, "Many a ship has sailed for sunny isles but never reached the shore."

Some one else wrote: "Some ships drive east and some drive west."

With the selfsame winds that blow;
'Tis the set of the sails and not the gales,

That decides the way they go."

So the people thought and still think here in this beautiful city of the "Tar Heel" state; for here in this city of 40,000 inhabitants one can't buy a cigar, a glass of soda water, nor anything else on Sunday. Now, while Sister Snuck may think this the proper caper, I do not. I wanted one shoe string this morning as one broke when I was tying it, but knowing the law, I did not worry or even try to buy one. I tell you, where the lines are drawn so taut, people will break through and do the very things they are forbidden to do. For instance, I saw two dusky damsels have a fist fight today, and when they got tired pounding each other with a bunch of bones and of pulling hair, one broke loose, ran to a fence and pulling off a paling began to beat the other with it. My, but she did yell "Murder!" Soon the patrol dashed up and the belligerents were loaded up and taken to the cooler. I heard one of the officers say, "Where did you get the moonshine?" "None of your d— business," was the reply. One almost daily sees drunks, and this is supposed to be a dry county.

The fact is, I have seen so much failure of the prohibition laws that I get disgusted more and more each day. Yet I am only one, and probably on the wrong side, for a lady of Knoxville, Tenn., said to me that she knows families that now have enough to eat, neat clothes to wear, and instead of lying about drinking and quarreling all day Sunday they now go to Sunday School with their children. Of course this outweighs my arguments if I have any, and I'll say, "God speed the good cause."

Charlotte, N. C., has grown very much in ten years. It boasts of the largest cotton and hosiery mills in the south. There is much northern capital invested here, and there are fine private residences. Along most of the sidewalks there is a space from two to three feet wide between the curbing and the pavement, and in this space are planted violets. These are now out in full and they make this otherwise vacant strip of ground a neat flower bed. I gathered a big bunch on Sunday. They are very fragrant.

Sunday in Charlotte was an ideal day; ladies were out without wraps, all in white, and men with checkered vests and no overcoats. While a week before that in Roanoke we had a hard snow squall that lasted over an hour. It snowed so hard and fast that I would not go out in his auto with Dr. J. D. Kirk to see his Jersey cows and Berkshire hogs. By the way, he recently sold a boar pig six months old for a thousand dollars, and what do you think of that? The doctor has gotten rich as Jersey cream down there, owning elegant business buildings and farms in and about Roanoke.

I am delighted to see the interest that seems to be taken in the apple growing in Bedford County. Every year Oregon sends east thousands of barrels of apples which sell at five cents each in the markets and on the fruit stands. Why cannot Bedford County raise apples that will sell at this price? It seems to me that it can and does, though the growers don't see their fruit bring these prices. A grower recently said that purchasers will pay five cents for an apple that had been shipped across the continent without a murmur but would not pay that much for a Northern Spy or an Albemarle Pippin, which to my taste are far superior to the Oregon fruit. It is to be hoped that the cold storage plant will care for lots of fruit that will not have to be sacrificed hereafter in the fall of the year.

The wheat in all this section and up the Yadkin River looks fine. The oats is mostly in and the corn and cotton ground is being prepared rapidly. I saw another shooting scrap at Rocky Mount, Va., last Monday evening. I was at supper about 7:30

Our Easter Showing

Of the New Spring Millinery will be held Today and Tomorrow,
April 2 and 3.

This section of the store is a bower of beauty. Feathers, Flowers and Ribbons vie with each other to make the hats of 1909 lovelier than before. Opening days will be announced later.

MRS. ELLA GILCHRIST.

BEDFORD SUMMER NORMAL

Begins May 10, closes with Superintendent's examination. FULLY EQUIPPED TO TEACH ALL HIGHER BRANCHES. OUR BUSINESS IS TEACHING. Tuition: Common branches, full term, 75c per week. Write for terms on higher branches. LANDIS TANGER, Ph. B. IRA M. LONG, A. M.

Bargains in Ladies' and Misses' Dress Shoes

$2.50 to $3.50 up-to-date Shoes are offered at cut price,

ONLY $1.78
for the next two weeks.

Watch for our new line of Ladies' and Misses' up-to-date OXFORDS. Also Men's Oxfords in all colors and styles. We will display the greatest line of Men's, Ladies' and Misses' Oxfords and Shoes that have been offered in this town for some time.

W. H. Straub's General Store,
BEDFORD, PA.

with five other gentlemen. We had a yellow boy for our waiter, while a black boy attended another table. As these boys would pass each other going to and from the kitchen they would say something to each other. I had ordered boiled eggs and a waffle from the yellow boy, which I never got, for he went to the kitchen with the order when he and the black boy had some words. The yellow boy pulled out his pistol or "gun," as they say here, and shot the black boy and he then took to his heels and they had not caught him yet Thursday. We rushed for the kitchen. There lay the black boy gasping for breath, while way over the field went the yellow one. The black boy died in a few moments. I have seen more shooting than is usual on this trip. When at Chatham a few days ago I met a Mr. Hartman and his wife from near Woodbury. He is a saddler; learned his trade with Alva Bowen of Everett, but has lived in Chatham for two years. Notwithstanding, he has been away for years, yet his heart yearns to be back in the Cove. He came south on account of his wife's health, which has greatly improved down here.

Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

DIED

RUPLEY.—At Martinsburg on March 28, Rev. Frederick A. Rupley, aged 88 years and two months; born in Greencastle in 1821 and educated at Mercersburg. A former pastor of the Reformed Church at Pavia, Claysburg, Yellow Creek and Loysburg; survived by wife, two sons and one daughter.

FLEGLE.—Near Saxton on March 27, Clifford, infant son of Lawson Flegle, aged 11 months and 24 days. Funeral services Sunday afternoon in the Church of God, conducted by Rev. F. W. McGuire. Interment at Stonerstown.

Tri-State Changes Management

The Tri-State Business College changed hands last Saturday when B. Frank Shaffer, vice president and business manager, acquired by purchase the entire interest of Prof. J. W. Smith, the president and principal of the school. Prof. Smith will remain with the institution as principal and will devote his entire time to teaching, this being his principal reason for retiring from his commercial connection with the school.

B. F. Shaffer, who has figured so prominently in the advancement of this, one of Cumberland's most promising institutions, needs no introduction to the public, as he is well and favorably known in the business world. There will be no change in the faculty, except the addition of Miss Rhea Shaffer, eldest daughter of the proprietor, as secretary.

Advertised Letters

The following letters have been held thirty days in the Bedford, Pa., postoffice, and if not called for within two weeks from this date will be sent to the Dead Letter Office at Washington. When asking for these letters please say, "Advertised."

Myers Brothers, J. Gold, The M Court Cabinet Label Co., James O'Connell, postal; Miss Jos. Wiscott, package.
Bedford, Pa., April 2, 1909.
John Lutz, Postmaster.

Dunning's Creek Reformed Charge

Services next Sunday as follows: St. Paul's—Sunday School, 9 a. m.; preaching 10 a. m. St. Luke's—Sunday School, 1; preaching 2 p. m. Pleasant Hill, Sunday School 1 p. m. Edward A. G. Hermann, Pastor.

Friend's Cove Lutheran Pastorate

Sunday, April 4, services as follows: St. James, Pleasant Valley, 10 a. m.; County Home 3 p. m. J. W. Lingle, Pastor.

We Think We Have Found the Suit You Wanted—Come In and See

To its patrons this store is a solution of the Clothes-problem. It shoulders—as the proxy of its patrons—the vexations that beset the task of finding Clothes that are right in style, in fit, in fabric and in price. Most any good store can solve one or more of these points for you. Not many stores, even good ones, can solve them all. And you want all of them solved, of course.

If you could get the same suit elsewhere for less money, this store would be a failure. For to be less than the real leader in Clothes-values would be to forfeit your confidence. A part of our obligation to you is to unfailingly protect you on prices.

Correct dressing stamps you as a CAPABLE MAN—not merely as a man of good taste. It denotes the ABILITY to dress well—not merely the inclination.

Here is a Special Easter Bargain in fine Suits for men at $10, cut and made like cut in THIS ADVERTISE-MENT.

The METROPOLITAN Clothing and Shoe House

A. Hoffman, Prop.

BEDFORD, PA.

Springhope

March 30—Miss Anna Blattenberger returned last Friday from Windber, where she spent a week visiting her brother and friends.

Cauncey Keller is spending several days in Somerset and Berlin on business.

Ed. Berkheimer of Mann's Choice was here on Tuesday looking after business.

George Leppert attended the funeral of his uncle, John Leppert, near New Buena Vista on Monday.

George Wolfe, who suffered a relapse, is again improving.

Mrs. Samuel Miller, who was threatened with typhoid fever some time ago, is better at this writing.

Miss Virginia Hazlet closed her term of school today. She was presented with a handsome quilt by her scholars as a token of esteem. Chester Reininger closed his school at Fishertown the same day.

Mrs. John Davis of Pleasantville visited her daughter, Mrs. George Leppert, who is ill with measles, several days last week.

Henry Miller, formerly of this place, but who for the last two months has been living with his son-in-law, Daniel Callihan, is visiting here at present.

Miss Charity Blackburn, who spent the past week visiting her parents and other friends here, returned to Philadelphia, where she is attending school, on Monday.

Mrs. Hall Smith of Quakertown, Bucks County, who recently buried her husband at Pleasantville, visited relatives here a few days this week.

Mrs. Amanda Smith has improved the appearance of her property by giving it a coat of paint and erecting a new fence.

Pilgrim.

Fyan

March 31—Mrs. William Deaner, who has been confined to her bed for the past two weeks with grip, is slowly improving.

Miss Beulah Suder is spending some time at the home of A. P. Hillegass.

Simon McCreary received his new hydraulic stump-pulling machine a few days ago and is now operating it.

Samuel Crissey and Miss Jessie Shull, of Mann's Choice, spent Sunday with Henry McKinney and family.

Miss Zora Hillegass was a guest at the home of W. H. Deaner the first of the week.

Ross Hillegass and George Deaner spent Saturday evening in our city.

Emanuel Wolford moved onto the farm of Franklin Beaner on Friday.

Mr. Wolford expects to devote most of his time to raising potatoes.

John Egolf lost a fine cow a few days ago.

H. W. Deaner of Smoky Ridge spent a few hours in our locality recently.

Peter Hillegass expects to move today to the farm which he recently purchased from Samuel Beckley.

Franklin Beaner, one of Bethel Hollow's substantial citizens, spent some time in our vicinity recently.

Mrs. Isaac Fisher, who has been ill for some time, is slowly improving.

Hootigan.

Buffalo Mills

March 31—Ross Brown, who recently spent a week with relatives in Elkins, W. Va., returned on Saturday last.

Harry Cook will remove to the Brant farm in the near future.

Wedding bells were ringing in our town a few days ago. Blair Frazier and Miss Maggie Claycomb were the happy couple. We wish them a pleasant journey o'er life's sea.

Misses Mary Smith and Allie Horn were visiting Mrs. Oscar Miller on Tuesday.

Our teachers' institute and educational meeting on the 20th was a decided success, which speaks well for those programmed, as well as the friends of education.

Mrs. Elder, teacher of the Run school, is getting up an old-fashioned exhibition for the close of her school "King La Grippe" is holding sway in this section and many are bowing to his despot rule.

Our health officer is making his final visits to the schools this week.

Preaching in the Cove next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. W. C. Garland.

A Few Questions From Dr. Lippitt, the Eye-Sight Specialist

Can you see well? Can you see alike with both eyes? Do your eyes become tired after using them awhile? Do your eyes itch, smart, and burn? Do you become dizzy like when riding in the cars? Do you get a headache coming home from a drive or gathering? If you wear glasses, have they been fitted to your eyes by a man that understands the laws of refraction? In short, do you realize that your eyes are one of the most important organs of the body and should never be neglected? Come to me in Bedford, SATURDAY, APRIL 3, at the Waverly Hotel, and have your eyes tested free of charge. If you need glasses my prices are far more reasonable than elsewhere, and my work is more than satisfactory. I can prove this by hundreds of the best known people in Bedford county. Don't forget the date—Saturday, April 3, at the Waverly Hotel, Bedford, Pa.

PROF. H. E. LIPPITT,
ALTOONA, PA.

The Natural, Palatable Tonic Builder

At no time of the year is a tonic, flesh builder, blood thickener and tissue maker so needed as in winter. A cold contracted now usually runs all winter, to the cost of health and strength. Persons—School Children—exposed to the outer air need just such a tonic to give power and warmth to the blood. To strengthen the body, feed the tissues, warm the blood, and make healthy flesh, there's nothing quite like

WINE OF LIFE.

For sale by JOHN R. DULL, Ph. G.

Juliana Street

BEDFORD, PA.

New Paris

March 30—F. W. Cuppett and family have moved to Johnstown.

W. A. Stultz and wife, of Johnstown, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

Miss Ruth Sleek left last week to enter West Chester State Normal as a pupil. She was accompanied by her father, J. R. Sleek.

Harry A. Long and family have moved to near Windber. Their town property in New Paris will be occupied by Dr. J. Harper Grazier and family.

Dr. Grazier's dental rooms will be in the same building.

Prof. W. B. Griffith conducted the examination for school graduation at this place on Saturday. The class consisted of ten pupils—one from Napier Township, three from East St. Clair Township and six from New Paris Borough.

Supt. Barkman completed the visiting of schools in this vicinity on last Friday and appeared to be favorably impressed with the work accomplished. His uniform system of questions for school graduation is meeting the approval of all interested in the same.

Texas

March 30—Eli Hoover, wife and son Fred, of Piny Creek, made visits at the homes of Wilson Hoover, Jacob Guyer and Homer Guyer recently.

Josiah Clapper recently purchased the tenant house formerly owned by John G. Koonz. Mrs. Sue Whetstone and family are the present occupants.

W. S. Guyer spent Saturday and Sunday visiting friends in Altoona.

Tuesday night of last week the teachers of South Woodbury Township held their local institute in the school house at this place. The session was largely attended and a very efficient program rendered.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Guyer spent Friday night at the home of their son, A. S. Guyer, in Bedford.

Both teachers and pupils of this township are busy making preparations for the last day of school.

Tuesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Clapper made a business trip to Bedford.

Osterburg

March 30—The Lutherans will hold their Easter service Saturday evening, April 10.

The ministers of Osterburg will hold a union service in the churches during Passion week.

J. H. Moses went to Altoona on business last week.

After spending a week in Harrisburg with his father, Charles Oster returned home last Friday.

Archie Smith was called home [from where] to attend the funeral of his father.

G. W. Woodard of Kalamazoo, Mich., is selling machinery in and about town.

Samuel Diehl and wife moved into the Lohr house last week.

Peter Mowery and family have moved to Lutzville from this place.

C. A. Mahan, wife and family, accompanied by Frank Otto, moved to Hillville, Indiana County, last week. Mr. Mahan will be greatly missed.

The Osterburg Traffic and Milling Company unloaded a car of tile and also a car of corn last week.

Saxton

March 31—Mrs. John Kelly was in Hopewell on Saturday.

Rev. Gaunt has moved to Huntingdon.

Miss Onetta Smith entertained a number of friends at her home here Saturday evening. She leaves today to visit friends in Philadelphia.

Arthur Huff was here from Pittsburgh a few days recently.

The organ recital last Thursday night in the Lutheran Church and the cantata the following evening were well attended and all speak highly of the rendition.

Mrs. John Bupp continues seriously ill. William Sevitts, who was hurt in the mine some time ago, is able to be out.

G. W. Sprow and wife and Dr. A. H. King and wife, of Riddlesburg, were Sunday guests of friends here.

Monday night Saxton lost to the Huntingdon basketball team by a score of 28 to 26. Friday night they will play Riddlesburg.

Miss Blanche Dorman of Hummel spent Saturday here with Mrs. Treese, her sister.

Levi F. Putt has gone to Philadelphia for treatment of his eyes.

The Reliance Band has gotten down to hard practice again and we expect the band to be better than ever this summer.

The following births have been reported during the past week: A daughter at the home of Edmund Treese, a boy at the home of Maurice Hickes, and twins at the home of John Lloyd.

The Church of God Sunday School has been growing rapidly in numbers and interest. Last Sunday all the old officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. E. B. Reed, the efficient superintendent, was elected for the sixth term. Under his administration the school has more than doubled in numbers. The church will hold its annual election next Sunday morning.

New Enterprise

March 31—Mrs. Barbara Foreman is critically ill with pneumonia at the home of her brother, Joseph Sell.

Chalmers Detwiler has rented his new house in the village to J. E. Reitz of Elk Lick, Somerset County, who recently bought three lots and the cider press and building at this place. In connection with making cider he will boil applebutter and make jellies.

Henry Grubb moved on the Isaac Boyer farm near Loysburg on Monday.

Elder and Mrs. L. T. Stuckey spent Sunday at Riddlesburg with their son Preston.

Elder and Mrs. L. F. Holsinger are off on a trip to Tyrone and Johnstown visiting their children.

Next Sunday afternoon, April 4, a Sunday School in the Church of the Brethren at Salemville will be organized.

Mrs. Jacob Mentzer, accompanied by her little granddaughter, Gladys Furry, is on a visit to Tyrone and Johnstown.

Ralph Over, Edgar M. Detwiler, O. R. Myers and Miss Clara Guyer, all of Juniata College, spent Sunday at their homes here.

Schellsburg

March 31—Mr. and Mrs. Kerr Bowser of Osterburg visited home folks on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bosh returned to their home at Hagerstown on Wednesday.

C. G. Fisher moved into the house that was vacated by F. S. Beaver.

Charles Schnabel of Johnstown visited his wife over Sunday.

Mrs. Deremer and Mrs. Mooth left for their homes in Ohio on Tuesday.

Miss Lou Amick of Point is visiting her sister, Mrs. Margaret Culp.

Paul Gumbert of Pittsburgh is spending some time with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. Gumbert.

Postmaster H. W. Beaver transacted business in Bedford on Wednesday.

A fine big girl baby came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mowry last week.

Several applicants took the examination for graduation which was held in the school building on Saturday.

Our Summer Normal will open April 26. Prospects for a large school are good. Rev. H. W. Bender will assist the principal and the school will be fully equipped to do first-class work.

Route 1 Mann's Choice

March 30—The Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Association of Buffalo Mills will meet Saturday, April 3, at 3 p. m. in the Grange Hall at which time it will complete its organization. Cultivating, pruning and grafting will be discussed. All who are interested in the fruit industry are invited to join the association and take part in the mutual discussion of all topics relative to the production of first-class fruit of all kinds, also the handling and marketing of the same which will be taken up in their season. Bring with you samples of your best fruit.

The sugar season in our community, the best for many years, is about over.

Miss Alberta Miller and cousin spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. A. A. Hyde.

Dave Benna is in a very critical condition at present, the trouble being a tubercular abscess caused by a badly sprained arm.

There will be an entertainment given in the Weisel school house Thursday evening, April 8.

Mrs. S. D. Miller has been on the sick list for some time.

There will be preaching services by Rev. C. Gumbert in Trinity Reformed Church on Dry Ridge April 11 at 2:30; Sunday School at 1:30 p. m.

The farmers are getting their spring work done between heavy snow storms and rain.

Miss Alberta Miller and cousin spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. A. A. Hyde.

Dave Benna is in a very critical condition at present, the trouble being a tubercular abscess caused by a badly sprained arm.

There will be an entertainment given in the Weisel school house Thursday evening, April 8.

Mrs. S. D. Miller has been on the sick list for some time.

There will be preaching services by Rev. C. Gumbert in Trinity Reformed Church on Dry Ridge April 11 at 2:30; Sunday School at 1:30 p. m.

The farmers are getting their spring work done between heavy snow storms and rain.

Miss Alberta Miller and cousin spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. A. A. Hyde.

Dave Benna is in a very critical condition at present, the trouble being a tubercular abscess caused by a badly sprained arm.

There will be an entertainment given in the Weisel school house Thursday evening, April 8.

Mrs. S. D. Miller has been on the sick list for some time.

There will be preaching services by Rev. C. Gumbert in Trinity Reformed Church on Dry Ridge April 11 at 2:30; Sunday School at 1:30 p. m.

The farmers are getting their spring work done between heavy snow storms and rain.

Miss Alberta Miller and cousin spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. A. A. Hyde.

Dave Benna is in a very critical condition at present, the trouble being a tubercular abscess caused by a badly sprained arm.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The Only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar
—Made from Grapes—

A Guarantee of Pure, Healthful, Delicious Food

Deeds Recorded

W. D. Boor, by widow and heirs, to Adna B. Boor, 194 acres in Cumberland Valley Township; $5,000.

W. A. Gaunt to John H. Moore, two lots in Liberty; $2,150.

John Moore to George W. Huff, same; $1,450.

Ross Barefoot to Julia A. Ickes, 177 acres in King; $4,700.

Julia A. Ickes to Richard W. Ickes, same; $4,700.

R. W. Ickes to Edgar H. Hartle, same; $5,000.

A. D. James to Morgan Wright, lot in Colerain; $250.

Lavenia S. M. Hughes to Dr. A. C. Wolf, lot in same; $250.

Dr. A. C. Wolf to William F. James, same; $260.

W. F. James to Lester Weaverling, same; $450.

Lester Weaverling to Roy Shoemaker, same; $500.

Harry C. Barkley to Fannie Longenecker, lot in Woodbury Township; $300.

William H. Aaron, by executors to J. S. Bayer, lot in South Woodbury; $2,105.

John F. Snyder to Baltzer Snyder, 91 acres in Monroe; nominal.

Session of Court

The Associate Judges held court on Saturday when the following business was transacted:

Estate of Mary S. Replogle, late of South Woodbury; return of sale filed and confirmed nisi.

Assigned estate of John C. Nicholson, appraisal filed; same estate, bond of assignee filed and approved.

Petition of Levi C. Smith for commission in lunacy to inquire into alleged insanity of John B. Smith of East Providence. Daniel S. Horn, Esq., appointed commissioner.

At a session held on Thursday by the Associate Judges petition for the appointment of a commission in lunacy for John B. Smith withdrawn and petition presented for appointment of guardian and time of hearing fixed for April 21, 1909.

Petition of sundry citizens of Harrison for the appointment of viewers for a proposed change in the route of a certain road leading from New Buena Vista to Mann's Choice, E. Howard Blackburn appointed surveyor and George Rock and George Deaner, viewers; same matter, bond filed and approved.

Bedford County People Wed

The following couples were granted licenses to wed in Cumberland during the past week:

John Blair Frazier of Mann's Choice and Margaret Belle Claycomb of Buffalo Mills.

Clay Stanton Harr of Lovely and Cecelia E. Prough of Drab.

Edward Connelly of Cumberland and Lena Elizabeth McDonald of Hyndman.

Elmer Clair Diggins of McKeesport and Anna Elizabeth Dilling of Bedford Township.

William Nelson Burley and Anna Blanche Madden, both of Cook's Mills.

In Blair County as follows:

David A. Helsel of Queen and Artie B. Heltzel of Frankstown.

Harry K. Replogle of Altoona and Viola M. Barefoot of Alum Bank.

Marriage Licenses

Robert Elvin Berkheimer of New Enterprise and Anna Mary Henry of Woodbury.

Edgar J. Weaver and Minnie Pearl Ramsey, of Saxton.

Taylor Roy McCreary and Anna Pearl Bowser, of East St. Clair.

Earl G. Whetstone of East Providence and Leah E. Baughman of West Providence.

Daniel S. McCreary of Johnstown and Della Miller of Schellsburg.

John W. Allen of Broad Top and Sarah G. Harbaugh of Everett.

William H. Layton and Verda E. Nyeum, of Everett.

Assignment

Frank Hughes and wife, of Broad Top Township, have made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of creditors to J. Harry Gilchrist of Bedford. The estate consists of several lots and other real estate. The papers were filed with Recorder James yesterday afternoon.

Hyndman

March 31—Miss Zuella Miller has returned to her home at Madley after a few days' visit here.

The body of Mrs. Frank White-man of Garrett was brought to this place on Sunday for burial. The services were held in the United Evangelical Church.

George Mowery and wife have moved from Smithfield into their property recently purchased from John Shumaker.

After spending some time here, Mrs. Anna Keim has returned to Washington.

Miss Nina Stowers has been appointed assistant to Postmaster G. S. Mullen.

Mrs. Albert Miller and daughter spent Monday in Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kinton had as guests on Sunday Mrs. Blanche Stair and son, of Cook's Mills.

Miss Fannie Cook is spending some time in McKeesport.

Some clothing in a room at the home of Charles Burket was destroyed by fire last Thursday. Prompt assistance saved the house from destruction.

Miss Marie Boose is the guest of her sister in Cumberland.

The examination for the county course of study was held here Monday by Prof. H. H. Deaner, he being appointed by the county superintendent.

The following were examined, all being from Londonderry Township schools: Ira Shaffer, Shaffer school; Thomas Leydig and Anna Sluby, Fossilville school; Clara Poorbaugh, Tannery school.

John Kramer is home from Franklin and Marshall College on a vacation.

Milligan's Cove

March 30—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Diehl were transacting business at the county capital Saturday.

Mrs. John Madden of Ellerslie, Md., spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. William Wolford.

Raymond Wolford, a telegraph operator at Mt. Dallas, is moving his household goods to Everett this week.

N. H. Martz of Hyndman, board of health officer, was inspecting the schools of Harrison Township Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. C. L. Van Orner and son Dalton, of Schellsburg, called at the home of Mrs. O. G.

Does the Baby Thrive

If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

Send this advertisement, together with name of paper in which it appears, your address and four cents to cover postage, and we will send you a "Complete Handy Atlas of the World."

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York

Of Universal Interest

The Bohemian Magazine for April is a number which will appeal to all classes of readers. The special articles include "The New Chinatown in San Francisco," in which is told what has been done by San Francisco's Chinese population toward rebuilding the quarter demolished in the earthquake. That the author is Jerome A. Hart is a sufficient guarantee of its interest. The numerous illustrations are from photographs. George Jean Nathan contributes an article on the pertinent question, "Are We a Theatrical Suburb?" and Lila Merrick tells "What the Models Think of the Artists." There is also a railroad article on "The Iron Horse Abroad."

Together with ten entertaining short stories of unusual merit, and the usual snappy department of humor, this number is one of universal interest.

Manzan Pile Remedy is put up in a tube with nozzle attached. May be applied directly to the affected parts. Guaranteed. Price 50c. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Feel languid, weak, run-down? Headache? Stomach "off"? Just a plain case of lazy liver. Burdock Blood Bitters tones liver and stomach, promotes digestion, purifies the blood.

Bird Photography

It is well to realize at the outset that the photographing of wild birds or animals in their haunts is one of the most difficult and advanced departments of photography, a sort of postgraduate course for a doctorate. The person who will take the trouble and give the necessary thought and time to mastering this branch of photography could surely master any other department thereof. I once told a professional portrait photographer, who was "doing" me in his gallery, that he had a perfect "snap." "There I sat, and he could arrange his light and accessories in reference to a willing subject, while in trying for the picture of the wild bird exactly the opposite is true." From "The Trick of Bird Photography," by Herbert K. Job, in The Outing Magazine for April.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the best known pills and the best pills made, are easy to take and act gently and are certain. We sell and recommend them. Sold by all druggists.

Sherman's Letters

The April number of Scribner's Magazine is made notable by the first instalment of "General Sherman's Letters Home." It is more than thirty years since his Memoirs were published; no important addition to Sherman literature was made until five years ago, when the hitherto correspondence between the General and his brother, the Senator, was published. The last important light to be shed on his career is in this present intimate correspondence between General Sherman and his wife, Ellen, who was his boyhood's friend. A. DeWitt Howe has selected and arranged the most important of these letters in such a way that the significant and most human characteristics of the General appear. The letters begin in 1859 when Sherman went South to take the head of a Military Academy in Louisiana. He was right in the heart of Secession and his comments on "those critical days" are very illuminating. When the war begins we see the growth of the great respect and personal attachment that Sherman had for Grant. This number closes with the end of the campaign at Vicksburg.

Woods Liver Medicine is a liver regulator which brings quick relief to sick headache, constipation, biliousness and other symptoms of liver disorders. Particularly recommend it for Jaundice, Chills, Fever, Malaria. The $1 size contains 2 1/2 times as much as the 50c size. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

THE ELBE RIVER.

How the Stream Was Brought to an Even Slope and Current.

In the beginning the Elbe, like any other river, wandered at its will, now spreading out among a multitude of islands, now narrowing into a short and crooked turn, now widening over a shoal. As a proper beginning for the correction of this sort of thing the Prussians, in true German style, prepared a map of the stream as it was, decided by a simple mathematical calculation how wide a channel 1.50 meters deep at middle water could be with the existing flow and then upon the map in red ink, eliminating all sharp turns, drew in graceful curves and long straight reaches regardless of the existing banks two nearly parallel lines, indicating the banks as they were intended to be.

The engineers began at the head of the stream and built out from the old shore to the location of the red line transverse dikes, ground sills—ordinary construction works. Sometimes where they seemed to be needed they built long parallel dikes exactly on the new red line. Sometimes they wore hurdles and revetment mattresses of willow brush, much as we do at home, and sunk them on bars between the tips of the transverse dikes, and then on the top of them set up upright sticks and wove "wattle" or basket fences of willow through them to make pens, and into these piled sand dredged from the stream, to build up the shore. Mile by mile they advanced, dredging the river or letting it dredge itself, leaving no ends loose to ravel out, gradually reducing the river to an even slope and current.—Boston Transcript.

Cheapest accident insurance—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Stops the pain and heals the wound. All druggists sell it.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys, and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints causing rheumatism. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Life's Unfairness

If falsehood always defeated itself there would be no temptation to lie, but the fact is that falsehood often gets rich when truth starves, lives in splendor while honesty is in rags.

Soothes itching skin. Heals cuts or burns without a scar. Cures piles, eczema, salt rheum, any itching. Doan's Ointment. Your druggist sell it.

Pineules are for Backache, and bring quick relief to lumbago, rheumatism, fatigue and all other symptoms of Kidney diseases. They are a tonic to the entire system and build up strength and health. Price 50c and $1. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Practical Proof.

"Yes, my son, I want you to make yourself ambidextrous. I want you to be able to use one hand just as skillfully as you do the other."

"That's me, dad. I can lick any boy in my class with either hand."—New York World.

The Dear Friends.

Vaudeville Dancer—When do you go on? Vaudeville Singer—Right after the trained cats. Vaudeville Dancer—Goodness me! Why don't the manager try to vary the monotony of his acts?—Cleveland Leader.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to void urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, E. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. In writing mention reading this paper. Don't make a mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—you do you will be disappointed.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson I.—Second Quarter, For April 4, 1909.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts x, 1-48—Memory Verses, 13-15—Golden Text, Acts x, 35—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.] This lesson really covers chapters 1 and 11, 1-18, for the whole of that portion is devoted to the record of Peter and Cornelius. It is the story of the reception of the first gentile household into this new company, called the church, and Peter is the human instrument in connection with angelic ministry, a vision and a special message from the Spirit. As in the case of Philip and the eunuch, we see the special interest of heaven in a truly seeking soul. The last we heard of Philip he was at Caesarea, for that was his home seemingly (chapter viii, 40; xxi, 8), and we cannot but wonder why he was not used to help Cornelius, but it was neither he nor Paul, the special apostle to the gentiles, but Peter, whom the Lord chose for this service. As Peter was used to gather the first company of Jews, so he is used to gather the first gentile, for to him were given by our Lord the keys of the kingdom of heaven (Matt. xvi, 19). We know that the church is not the kingdom, but the present age is the "mystery of the kingdom," and the church must be gathered and this age close before the kingdom can come.

Cornelius, the centurion, makes us think of the one who had such great faith and also the one who sold at the crucifixion, "Truly this was the Son of God" (Matt. viii, 5-10; xxvii, 54). If any man could be saved by character, as we hear on all sides today, surely this man could, for consider what is said of him in verses 2, 7, 22, 30, 31, and yet Peter had to come and tell him words whereby he and his household could be saved (xi, 14). He had to tell him of the death and resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth and of forgiveness of sins through Him. If a man's own doing can save him, then there was no necessity for the sufferings of Jesus Christ as the sinners' substitute, but without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins, and there is no sacrifice but His by which sinners can be saved (Heb. ix, 22; Lev. xiv, 11; Heb. i, 3; Acts iv, 12). Cornelius was truly a devout man and lived up to the light he had, and to such God has respect and will somehow send them more light, even though He must needs employ angelic ministry.

One afternoon as he was fasting and praying a visitor unannounced stood before him clad in heavenly clothing and assured him that his prayer was heard and his aims remembered before God and that a man in Joppa for whom he should send would tell him what he needed to know (verses 3 to 6 and 30 to 33). Immediately he sent two of his servants and a soldier to find Peter. Notice in this connection that the Lord in heaven knows where we sojourn, who owns the house, the owner's occupation and all other details of our life, for all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him with whom we have to do. The servants being on the road, Peter needed to be prepared to receive them and return with them, for he still considered it unlawful to come unto or keep company with one of another nation (verse 28). See, then, how God prepared him. He was very hungry and would have eaten if anything had been ready, but while they made ready for him he fell into a trance. Many a housewife would be glad oftentimes if some of the hungry, complaining household would do likewise. Note carefully the vision in verses 11-16 and see, if you have anointed eyes, the church gathered from Jews and gentiles.

We are all unclean, but the church must be gathered from such (I Cor. vi, 9-11). As the sheet was let down from heaven, all must be born from above. The sheet was held in heaven. We are kept by the power of God and in due time shall be as a church caught up to heaven. The fine linen suggested by the sheet speaks always of righteousness—His, not ours, but ours in Him. In the seven passages where we read of "heaven opened" it is always to reveal something concerning Christ and His redeemed. While Peter considered the meaning of the vision the men from Caesarea were at the door inquiring for him, and the Spirit having said, "Behold, three men seek thee, arise, therefore, and get thee down and go with them, doubting nothing, for I have sent them" (verses 19, 20), all was clear and plain for Peter.

Having lodged the strangers overnight, on the morning Peter and six of the brethren (xi, 12), a party of ten, started for Caesarea. Cornelius had called together his kinsmen and near friends and awaited the arrival of Peter. Having received him all too reverently and told him all, he added, "Now, therefore, are we all here present before God to hear all things that are commanded thee of God" (verse 33). What a perfect attitude for a congregation to be in, and how the Lord would work if it was always so! Peter began to tell of Jesus of Nazareth, His life and death and resurrection, and of peace through His blood by the forgiveness of sins, and that all the prophets had borne witness to Him, and while he was speaking the Holy Ghost fell on all who heard, and they spoke with tongues and magnified God. Then Peter baptized them and received them into the visible church.

KINGSFORD'S OSWEGO CORN STARCH

Sixty-six Years of Superiority.

Just the thing to go with all kinds of fresh or stewed fruit, either as a delicate sauce to pour over the fruit or as a blanc mange or pudding to serve with it. Before another meal drop postal for and learn what a practical cooking aid Kingsford's Oswego Corn Starch really is. Its many uses will surprise you.

"Original Recipes and Cooking Helps"

For making custards, blanc manges, ices, puddings—all dishes that depend for goodness upon corn starch quality—Kingsford's has been chosen by best cooks for three generations.

Grocers—pound packages—10c

T. KINGSFORD & SON, Oswego, N. Y. National Starch Co., Successors

SAYS SHE CAN'T DO WITHOUT U. S. STOCK FOOD FOR COW

The United States Food Co., Pleasant City, Ohio. Gentlemen:—Will inform you that goods arrived yesterday, and got it home in the afternoon. One of my customers stopped my driver coming home and got a 50c package of U. S. Stock Food, says she can't do without it for her cow, and that is what others say about the Food. Inclosed find check for bill. Respectfully yours, S. E. Dellinger. Stonersville, Pa., Dec. 14, 1908.

The United States Food Co., Pleasant City, Ohio. Sirs:—I have been selling your U. S. Stock and Poultry Foods for two years and am well pleased. I started by giving it out no cure no pay, and every man came back and paid and gave a larger order.

Yours truly, V. L. Goodhart. If you have a horse, colt, cow, steer, calf, sheep, hog or pigs that are not thriving, and if you have tried everything that you could think of without getting results, just go to your dealer and ask for U. S. Stock Food, take it home, feed it and you will get results. Thousands are doing that very thing. Remember the name, U. S. Stock Food. Demand it! If your dealer should not have U. S. and should try to sell you some other brand claiming it is just as good, don't accept it, but just drop us a card and we will tell you where to get U. S. Every package sold on a written guarantee. The United States Food Co., Pleasant City, O. Sole manufacturers of U. S. Stock Food, U. S. Poultry Food, U. S. Animal Regulator, a worm powder, and U. S. Louse Killer. Sold by thousands of merchants and fed by over fifty thousand feeders in Pennsylvania alone.

Kodol

For Dyspepsia and Indigestion

If you Suffer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gas on the Stomach, Belching, Sour Stomach, Heart-burn, etc., a little Kodol will Relieve you almost Instantly

Kodol supplies the same digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach. Being a liquid, it starts digestion at once.

Kodol not only digests your food, but helps you enjoy every mouthful you eat.

You need a sufficient amount of good, wholesome food to maintain strength and health.

But, this food must be digested thoroughly, otherwise the pains of indigestion and dyspepsia are the result.

When your stomach cannot do its work properly, take something to help your stomach. Kodol is the only thing that will give the stomach complete rest.

Why? Because Kodol does the same work as a strong stomach, and does it in a natural way.

So, don't neglect your stomach. Don't become a chronic dyspeptic. Keep your stomach healthy and strong by taking a little Kodol. You don't have to take Kodol all the time. You only take it when you need it.

Kodol is perfectly harmless.

Our Guarantee.

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2 1/2 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Pennsylvania Railroad EASTER EXCURSION

TO Atlantic City, Cape May, ANGLESEA, WILDWOOD, HOLLY BEACH, OCEAN CITY, SEA ISLE CITY, N. J.

THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 1909,

Train leaves Bedford at 9.20 a. m., connecting with Special Train of Parlor Cars, Dining Car, and Coaches LEAVING PITTSBURGH AT 8.55 A. M. AND RUNNING THROUGH TO ATLANTIC CITY

$7.25 Round Trip Tickets good only in coaches $9.25 Round Trip Tickets good in Parlor or Sleeping Cars in connection with proper Pullman tickets

PROPORTIONATE RATES FROM OTHER STATIONS Tickets good for passage on Special Train and its connections or on trains leaving Pittsburgh at 4.55 p. m., 8.25 p. m., and 8.45 p. m. and their connections. Tickets good for sixteen days.

EASTER SUNDAY ON THE BOARDWALK For stop-over privileges and full information consult nearest Ticket Agent, or Thos. E. Watt, District Passenger Agent, 401 Fourth Avenue, Cor. Smithfield St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

J. R. WOOD, Passenger Traffic Manager GEO. W. BOYD, General Passenger Agent

W. H. SEARS, M. D., Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

HUNTINGDON, PA. AT BEDFORD, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1909.

Can be seen at Huntingdon on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

A. C. WOLF, M. D., PHYSICIAN and SURGEON

ROOMS IN RIDENOUR BLOCK, BEDFORD, PA. OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12 a. m. 1 to 5 p. m. Daily Except Sunday.

Special attention given to the treatment of Chronic Cases between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m., daily except Sunday.

THE

First National Bank

BEDFORD, PA.

Capital $100,000
United States bonds 100,000
Liability of Shareholders 100,000
Surplus and undivided profits 70,000
Security to depositors 500,000 more than

Three per cent. interest paid on time deposits. The accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals received upon the most favorable terms consistent with safe and conservative banking.

OFFICERS.
OSCAR D. DOTY President
A. B. EGOLF Vice President
EDMUND S. DOTY Cashier

DIRECTORS.
Oscar D. Doty Jacob Chamberlain
A. B. Egolf Patrick Hughes
J. H. Longenecker John P. Cuppett
Edmund L. Smith

HUNTINGDON AND BROAD TOP MOUNTAIN RAILROAD.

In Effect June 21, 1908.

NORTH STATIONS.		SOUTH.
P. M.	A. M.	P. M.	A. M.
5.05	9.40	Ar. a. m.	10.25
5.08	9.43	Everett	10.22
5.16	9.51	Tatesville	10.12
5.26	10.01	Cypher	10.01
5.34	10.09	Hopewell	9.49
5.38	10.13	Riddelsburg	9.44
5.50	10.25	A. Saxton	9.32

4.30	8.30	L. Dudley	10.25
4.45	8.45	Coalmont	10.05
5.00	9.00	A. Saxton	9.40

5.50	10.25	L. Saxton	9.32
6.01	10.35	Cove	9.21
6.06	10.40	Hummel	9.16
6.12	10.45	Entriikan	9.11
6.19	10.52	Marklesburg	9.04
6.23	10.56	Brumbaugh	9.00
6.28	11.01	Grafton	8.55
6.32	11.05	McConnell's	8.50
6.40	11.15	Huntingdon	8.40

Bedford Special

Train No. 5 leaves Huntingdon at 2 p. m. and arrives at Bedford at 3.50 p. m. Train No. 6 leaves Bedford at 2 p. m. and arrives at Huntingdon at 3.50 p. m.

Sunday Trains

Trains leave Huntingdon at 8.45 a. m. and 5.40 p. m. and arrive at Bedford at 10.30 a. m. and 7.35 p. m. Trains leave Bedford at 9.45 a. m. and 3.20 p. m. and arrive at Huntingdon at 11.30 a. m. and 5.05 p. m.

DR. CHARLES R. GRISSINGER DENTIST

BEDFORD, PA. Porcelain Inlay, Crown and Bridge Work. Somniform or Gas administered. Careful attention. Office on Juliana Street, above J. H. Jordan's Law Office.

Humphrey D. Tate

Attorney-at-Law BEDFORD, PA. Office on Public Square.

D. Lloyd Claycomb

Attorney-at-Law ALTOONA, PA. All business entrusted to my care will receive prompt attention. n6-03

R. C. McNamara

Attorney-at-Law BEDFORD, PA. Office in Ridenour Block. oct28-99

Frank Fletcher

Attorney-at-Law BEDFORD, PA. Office on Public Square.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, MANAGER Midway between Broad St. Station and Reading Terminal on 10th St. European, $1.00 per day and up American, $2.50 per day and up The only moderate priced hotel of reputation and consequence in PHILADELPHIA

Bedford Planing Mill Co.

LUMBER, Slate, Brick, Shingles, Planing Mill Work of every description. A. G. STEINER, Supt.

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c. Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion from whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Inventors receive our free special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers. MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

If you have anything for sale, advertise it in The Gazette "Want" Column.

SPECIAL OFFERS

We can furnish to old or new subscribers the following papers at greatly reduced prices:

PHILADELPHIA RECORD

The Daily Record (regular price $3) and Gazette for one year at $4.00; six months, $2.00.

NORTH AMERICAN

The Gazette and daily North American (regular price $3) one year, $3.85; six months, $1.95.

PITTSBURG POST

The daily Post (regular price $5) and Gazette one year, $5; six months, $2.60.

STAR-INDEPENDENT

The daily Harrisburg Star-Independent and Gazette one year, $3.30; six months, $1.70.

ALL MAGAZINES

We can furnish, at reduced rates, any magazine which clubs with newspapers. Let us know your wants and we will quote you the best prices obtainable. We can save you money.

SOUVENIR ALBUMS

For Three Dollars we will send The Gazette to new subscribers for Two Years and furnish a copy of Bedford's Old Home Week Souvenir Album. This book is printed on glazed half-tone paper, is 9 1/2 by 12 inches in size and contains 119 cuts, historical and modern; also the officers and committees of the organization, the full programs of the week, the address of welcome by the late Burgess John R. Jordan, Col. John H. Fuller's oration, Hon. B. F. Meyers' poem, The Welcome Home, and many other features.

LET US HAVE YOUR ORDER NOW

GAZETTE PUBLISHING COMPANY,
BEDFORD, PENNA.

FORTUNE'S WHEEL

Turn, Fortune, turn thy wheel and lower the proud;
Turn thy wild wheel thro' sunshine, storm and cloud:
Thy wheel and thee we neither love nor hate.

Turn, Fortune, turn thy wheel with smile or frown;
With that wild wheel we go not up or down;
Our board is little, but our hearts are great.

Smile and we smile, the lords of many lands;
Frown and we smile, the lords of our own hands:
For man is man and master of his fate.

Turn, turn, thy wheel above the starting crowd;
Thy wheel and thou art shadows in the cloud;
Thy wheel and thee we neither love nor hate.

—Alfred Tennyson.

A Guaranteed Cough remedy is Bees Laxative Cough Syrup. For coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough, hoarseness and all bronchial affections. Best for children because it is quick to relieve and tastes good. Gently laxative. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

The Margrave of Schwedt

Is a new serial story and the latest success of Charles Major, the author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and "The Margrave of Schwedt" stories. "The Margrave of Schwedt" is a strong story dealing with love and German history, and will appeal to all classes of readers, but particularly to German-Americans and those of German descent. The characters are historical and young Frederick and his favorite sister, Princess Wilhelmina, figure conspicuously throughout the entire story. Charles Major in this story attempts to do for German literature exactly what he did for English literature in his "Knighthood" volume and his efforts have certainly proven very successful. It is an entertaining and powerful story and will be printed exclusively in serial form in The Sunday Edition of The Philadelphia Press, and the opening chapters appear May 16th. Order your copy in advance or write to The Philadelphia Sunday Press, Seventh and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia.

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble. Do not be fooled into accepting "own make" or other substitutes. The genuine contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. Ed. D. Heckerman.

CASITORIA

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

STIVER'S LIVERY, SALE AND EX-CHANGE STABLES

Constantly on hand and FOR SALE, Heavy Work Horses, Saddle and Driving Horses and Fast Roadsters. Every horse guaranteed as represented or money refunded.

Single and double harness and bugies in good condition for sale. Jan. 29, 4-mo.

AN ARMY MAN'S CLOSE CALL BY BUFFALO BILL

FROM TRUE TALES OF THE PLAINS
COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY WILLIAM F. CODY

ONE of the most thrilling personal experiences that I ever heard was that of Lieutenant De Rudio, who was cut off from Reno's command at the Little Big Horn and spent two days and nights filled with such narrow escapes and blood curdling dangers as to make, under the conditions, the most callous man's hair stand on end.

In the fight he was guarding a pony crossing with eight men, when one of them said: "Lieutenant, get your horse—quick! Reno's retreating!" But as no trumpet had been sounded and no order had been given he hesitated and waited for the call. As the men had seen the others retreating, they unceremoniously left, and De Rudio, seeing the gulch left behind, rode back to get it, which he did, but saw thirty-five or forty Indians coming. He dashed off, and they fired a volley; but, leaning low on his horse, it went high over him. He rode into the thick underbrush, when they fired many shots into the woods, the bullets cutting the branches all around him. He crossed the creek, scrambling up the bank, when suddenly he saw hundreds of Indians in front of him, not fifty yards distant, shooting at the retreating soldiers, with their backs toward him. He instantly saw that he was entirely cut off. While thinking how desperate a run for it it would be, the thought of wife and children nerved him, and he was about to brave it when a young Indian about thirty yards distant on his right fired and killed his horse. The shot attracted the other Indians, and De Rudio jumped down the bank, hiding in an excavation, and several volleys were fired, so accurately seemingly that the Indians thought he must be killed.

A terrible yelling began among the Indians, and all at once the firing ceased. Peering out, he saw the cause. Captain Benteen's column was coming over the hills and had attracted their attention. It aroused the hope that they would come near enough for him to join them, but in a few minutes they disappeared, and the Indians all started off in that direction. Reno's command had evidently rallied, and they all got together, so his only hope was to crawl around under the underbrush and get as near Reno's command as he could, which he could plainly see. At the same time there was a movement on another hill on the right, and he thought he saw for a moment General Custer and some officers, and then they disappeared. While quietly going through the brush he heard a whispered "Lieutenant, lieutenant!" Then he recognized Private O'Neill of G troop and Gerard, interpreter, and Scout Jackson. The two latter had horses, but O'Neill's had been killed.

Gerard and Jackson would not desert their horses, fearing they would neigh or be seen, as Indians were passing still around the bushes and so set fire to the timber. The smoke and flames forced them out of their hiding place just as Jackson and Gerard joined them, having left their horses where they first met, stuffing grass in their nostrils to prevent them from attracting attention. Wrapping their blouses around their heads, they succeeded in escaping into the thick brush along the bank of the creek. From here they saw that McDougall had joined Reno with the pack train. At the finish of the firing in the direction where Custer was hundreds of Indians returned, and the fight on the hill was kept up all night. The two scouts got their horses and, with O'Neill and De Rudio holding the tails, decided to ford the river under darkness at the place where they had crossed in the morning. By making a detour round the Indians and as it was dark they passed close to three bands of red men without molestation. O'Neill and De Rudio on the occasions keeping alongside the horses and out of sight. The fourth party came along and shouted to them in Sioux, and Jackson and Gerard cut loose and the two afoot dropped and hid in the sagebrush.

The Indians pursued the horsemen a short distance, firing shots at them, but did not see the two men in the sagebrush, although they passed in single file within three or four feet of them.

O'Neill and he reached the ford and decided to retrace themselves and wait until daylight. The moon came out but dimly, and they saw a party that looked like American cavalry, as they were on American horses and dressed in the soldier's uniform, the leader riding a sorrel horse with four white legs. He was sure that it was Captain Tom Custer. Elated, he cried out, "Hello, captain!" The rider stopped, and, although they could not see him, a fiendish yell and a volley of bullets told them they were Indians. They rushed through the brush, the Indians firing at the moving bushes volley after volley. Their escape was miraculous.

It turned out afterward that these Indians by their firing spoiled a bit of stratagem they had arranged to deceive Reno by dressing in the clothes of dead soldiers of Custer's command, and, equipped with clinking sabers and on American horses, they expected to deceive him in the night by pretending to be men of Custer's party. This firing at De Rudio and giving the Indian yell put the Reno men on their guard. Proceeding on their way, two Indians came hunting for the fugitives, believing, of course, that it was only some wounded soldier. While hunting for them they approached within five yards, and, evidently having seen them, one jumped from his horse, when De Rudio fired and dropped him dead. O'Neill's carbine knocking the other one out of his saddle and killing him. The Indians in the hills saw the flash and puff and fired another volley in that direction, but the two desperate men hastily concealed themselves behind a big log which several bullets had struck. The bullets struck the ground within a few feet and even inches of them continuously.

Again the woods were fired at this point, but as it had been rainy in the evening the smoke was stronger than the flames and was thus their salvation, and they hid in a deep part of the creek with only their heads out of water, but with their cartridges and firearms on the bank ready for action. They remained there and in a little oasis of bushes that the fire had not touched, without moving or speaking, until 9 o'clock on the 26th of June. About 4 o'clock there were two signal pistol shots fired, the Indian vedette left his post at the ford and a loud voice was heard haranguing the Indians, and a band of three or four hundred passed closely and rode off. They could see them for miles down the river and heard them singing a peculiar chant. By 6:30 they had gone as far as they could see, and it was evident that something had caused them to move away, as it appeared to them that the troops must have also left the hill.

Hungry, exhausted and dispirited, their condition can be imagined—the command gone, and they a hundred miles from the Yellowstone river. However, when everything was quiet in the dark night they started in the direction of Reno's retreat, and after about five miles they came to a high hill, from which they saw a fire. At times the fire disappeared, and they concluded that there must be human beings passing around it, which hid it occasionally from sight. But what kind of human beings—Indians or white? There was the rub. They crawled on with great cautiousness, fearing the Indians would have to be crawled through even to reach Reno, if it was Reno, when their hearts were raised by the baying of a mule. Still he might be a captured mule, so they crept along on their bellies cautiously until they got so near that they heard voices talking in English. They crawled within a hundred yards of the visible party and called out to the picket who they were, De Rudio and O'Neill. "For God's sake, don't shoot!" A cheer from the picket, and in a few minutes the tired and famished survivors of many mental deaths were munching crackers and coffee with Captain Varnum.

De Rudio's reception by his comrades brings to mind the time when an army was drawn up in battle line to receive me.

I will refer to one of the press dispatches sent from Reno's command to give an account of this incident:

"Our march now lay through a succession of abandoned Indian camps, showing that we were on the trail of the Sioux. The bleached bones of buffaloes and now and then the shaggy heads of this monarch of the plains, testifying to the recent passage of Indian hunters, were met with from time to time scattered among the wickiups or temporary shelters made of saplings and tree branches, but so far no signs of the hostile Sioux were encountered. Our picturesque Crow and Cree allies had brought information of the near approach of the Sioux, and we were in hourly expectation that the savages would appear to dispute our progress. Plains scarred by deep canyons we passed which might conceal an army from view and yet were invisible at a few hundred yards distant. Right and left ran continuous lines of bluffs on either hand, offering positions that, defended by resolute and well armed men, would be almost impregnable.

A single horseman advanced from the timber.

"Suddenly while standing around a fire at a temporary stopping place, we were startled by a quick succession of unearthly yells, and soon after a band of Crows, painted hideously, burst into camp at full gallop. They reported 'heap Sioux' coming toward us, more Sioux than they had ever seen before. This our informant expressed clearly in sign language, showing us the Sioux mounted and coming to cut our throats. The interpreter soon after arrived and confirmed our interpretation of the Indian sign language. Soon we were startled by a simultaneous rush of the Cree scouts, who announced the Sioux. The troops immediately formed in line of battle, and the scene was an animated one. Two companies of the Seventh cavalry, under Captain French and Lieutenant De Rudio, were to support the scouts in case of attack, while the column was properly arranged as well as the difficult nature of the ground would permit.

"One battalion of the Seventh cavalry, under Captain Welf, formed a mounted skirmishing line at full gallop, aided by the Second cavalry, drawn up in column on their flank under General Grisham and Lieutenant Low's battery of three guns. The trains were closed up, and the companies of the Fifth infantry, under General Miles; the Sixty-sixth, under Colonel Moore, and the Twenty-second, under Colonel Otis, were extended along the flanks and moved in the rear as supports. For a few minutes all was expectation and anxiety.

"A single horseman advanced from the timber, and there was a muttered exclamation from many mouths, 'There they come!' As we strained our ears for the report of the first gun the horseman advanced toward the skirmishers, making signs of friendship. It proved to be Bill Cody, the scout, better known as 'Buffalo Bill,' dressed in the magnificence of the border fashion. He announced that we were in front of General Crook's command and said we might put off all bloody thoughts for that day. Such a reception probably no man ever received, as warm in its greeting as would have been the warmth of the reception of the hostile Sioux."

The Thundering Legion.
In the year A. D. 174 a Roman legion made up wholly or in part of Christians fought under Marcus Antonius against the Marcomanni. The Roman army were shut up in a defile and ready to perish from thirst when a severe thunderstorm, with heavy rain, relieved them of their distress and at the same time so terrified their enemies that a great victory was gained. The Christians attributed their deliverance to the prayers they had just presented and considered it miraculous, and the term "thundering legion" was applied to the soldiers.—New York American.

Agent Wanted

In every section where we are not now represented, we want an agent some man or woman who is favorably known, to sell

Perkins' National Herbs

the great herb remedy for the relief and cure of Rheumatism, Constipation, Liver, Kidney and Stomach Troubles. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only medicine of merit that is

Not Sold to Druggists

For twenty-nine years Perkins' herb remedy has been a favorite in the home. It is easy to sell. Furnishes an occupation pleasant, profitable and permanent. No matter what your present work, it will pay you to Send for Terms and Samples

No competition—no license—exclusive territory assigned, and every agent fully protected. You may give all or your spare time to the work. Address

THE NATIONAL HERB COMPANY
10 North Capitol St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

The original LAXATIVE cough remedy.

For coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. No opiates. Non-alcoholic. Good for everybody. Sold everywhere.

The genuine FOLEY'S HONEY and TAR is in a yellow package. Refuses substitutes.

Prepared only by FOLEY & COMPANY, Chicago.

Ed. D. Heckerman, Druggist, Bedford.

FREE TRIP to the PACIFIC COAST

ARE YOU ONE of the many thousands who want to explore this Wonderland?

SUNSET MAGAZINE

has instructed a new department, who is special work it is to put within the reach of every one an opportunity to see the FAR WEST. Write for Sample Copy.

For full particulars address

Sunset Travel Club
16 Flood Building, San Francisco, Cal.

Hartley Banking Co.

John M. Reynolds
Allen C. Blackburn
Fred A. Metzger
J. Frank Russell
Simon H. Sell

J. Anson Wright, Frank E. Colvin,
Cashier, Solicitor.

UNENUMBERED INDIVIDUAL ASSETS OVER $500,000.

Three Per Cent. Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

Individual liability to all depositors and persons doing business with this firm.

This institution, in existence over 30 years, invites a continuance of the patronage of this business. Loans made on reasonable terms. Accounts and deposits solicited.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD

Always Tells the News as it is. Promptly and Fully.

It has invariably been the great effort of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World to publish the news impartially in order that it may be an accurate reporter of what has happened. It tells the truth, irrespective of party, and for that reason it has achieved a position with the public unique among papers of its class.

If you want the news as it really is, subscribe to the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Bedford Gazette together for one year for $2.20. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.

Sick headache, constipation and nervousness are relieved by FOLEY'S Liver Pills. They cleanse the system. Do not gripe. Price 25c. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Silverware That Wears

Call at our store and see our line of Silverware. Every piece guaranteed to give satisfaction.

J. E. Cleaver,
Jeweler and Optician,
BEDFORD, PA.

JAMES H. EVANS,
Practical Auctioneer,
EVERETT, PA.

Auctions and sales attended to promptly. Fifteen years' experience. Both phones.

The Cough Syrup that rids the system of a cold by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is

BEEES LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP

Bees is the original laxative cough syrup, contains no opiates, gently moves the bowels, carrying the cold off through the natural channels. Guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded.

ED. D. HECKERMAN, Druggist.

PATENTS

PROSECUTED AND DEFENDED. Send model, drawing or photo, for report search and free report. Free advice, how to obtain patents, trade marks, copyrights, etc., in ALL COUNTRIES. Business direct with Washington saves time, money and often the patent.

Patent and Infringement Practice Exclusively. Write or come to us at 523 Ninth Street, opp. United States Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

GA-SNOW & CO.

If you have backache and urinary troubles you should take Foley's Kidney Remedy to strengthen and build up the kidneys so they will act properly, as a serious kidney trouble may develop. Ed. D. Heckerman.

They hid in a deep part of the creek.

back and forth, attracted by heavy firing on the village, which must have been the Custer fight. As they refused to leave the horses, he started with O'Neill afoot on their own hook.

At one time an Indian rode within a few feet of them, cut a switch and went on. They were then at the edge of a clearing, which they dared not cross until dark, and they hid themselves behind some driftwood in a hole, placing their cartridges all around handy and ready for the expected attack.

Two shots were fired in close proximity, and they thought they were gone. Peering out, they saw that it was Indian women who were mutilating the bodies of some dead soldiers. Searching around the ground, they came so near that they were tempted to fire at them.

The Indians seemed to be, although occupied, suspicious that some were

FASHION'S MANDATES.

Be Careful in Selecting Hair Ornaments—A Smart Sleeve Model.

A spray of gold pointed leaves is an effective hair ornament. One, though, must be very careful when selecting a gold hair ornament that its brilliancy does not eclipse the brightness of the eyes. It would be better to put the hair up modishly and leave the hair ornaments for those who can wear them to advantage.

There is a smart sleeve model for a coat that might answer for remodeling purposes when small pieces of material have to be utilized. There seems to be a fitted lining, and from elbow to wrist this is covered with folds of the material. Folds appear again at the top of the sleeves, and the space between is filled with broad bands of the goods decorated with braiding, passementerie or heavy lace.

COSTUME FOR SCHOOLGIRL—4490.

A pattern of this costume may be had in three sizes—for girls fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number (4490), and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.

It is high time to think of the spring and summer wardrobe. For the school-girl, be she large or small, it is most essential that her dresses and, indeed, all her clothes be simple and serviceable. The dress illustrated may be carried out either in woolen or wash fabrics.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SARTORIAL NEWS.

One Piece Dress For Summer—Just Call It Louis XV.

The one piece dress will undoubtedly prevail far into the summer—in fact, quite as long as weather conditions will allow the one material to be comfortable. When the fabric is heavy probably the lingerie blouse will come into its own again, though in these days of removable sleeves, yokes, etc., the one piece frock is made possible, regardless of the material, all the year round.

When you don't know a particular hat buckle, shoe or collar just call it a Louis XV. and let it go at that, for half the Louis dresses are copied from

PINK LACE SCHOOL DRESS—4377.

A pattern of this school dress may be had in four sizes—for girls from six to twelve years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number (4377), and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail.

remarkable old prints that his mother never saw.

One of the most thoroughly comfortable and serviceable designs for school wear for girls is the jumper—a dainty sheer kimono of a tub material. The gown illustrated depends for its attractiveness upon the irregular shaped princess panel in front broadening out and extending over each shoulder to the waist line at the back. It forms a pretty finish for the yoke all round.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Consider The Question

A good many people, about this time, are considering the question of furniture for spring. Let us persuade you to consider our guarantee of Bedroom Furniture, Parlor Furniture, Iron Beds, Mattresses, Couches, &c.

When we think of our ancestors' method of transferring messages, as compared with the present means, we cannot help but marvel at the wonderful advancement made.

In our present day Metzger's Furniture is recognized by all as the standard of excellence. Taking each grade and considering its price, it is safe to choose it as the best obtainable value.

METZGER'S STORE

CHARTER NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the Governor of Pennsylvania on Tuesday, the 27th day of April, 1909, by Simon F. Whetstone, S. T. Diehl, Samuel Hunt, and others, under the Act of Assembly, entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved April 29, 1874, and the supplements thereto, for the charter of an intended corporation to be called The Friend's Cove Telephone Company, the character and object of which is for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and leasing telephone and telegraph lines for the private use of individuals, firms, corporations, municipal and otherwise, for general business and for police, fire-alarm and messenger business; the operation of telephone exchanges and the furnishing of facilities for communication by means of the transmission of electricity over or through wires and doing a general telephone and telegraph business by such means, with all the rights and powers in said Acts granted.

The general route of the lines of the said Company is as follows: Beginning at the Borough of Bedford and crossing Evitt's Mountain to Charlesville; thence through Colebrook Township to Rainsburg; thence via Kootzville, Ott Town, Lutzville and Ashcom to the Borough of Everett; all the said route being within the County of Bedford and State of Pennsylvania, with branches extending to and connecting other boroughs and villages in said county; also telephone exchanges in the several boroughs and villages above mentioned and other boroughs and villages to be connected. The lines of such exchanges connecting offices, places of business and residences with each other and with the central offices, and for these purposes to have, possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of said Act of Assembly and the supplements thereto.

Apr. 2, 4-t. D. C. REILEY, Solicitor.

Insurance That Insures

The Double Benefit Policy provides for an immediate payment at death and an annuity as well. The beneficiary, under a ten thousand dollar contract, would receive at the death of the insured $2,000 immediately and $400 per annum for twenty years—$10,000 in all. This is double protection. There is a sum immediately available at death and as a protection against bad investments an income for twenty years, costing at age 35 ONLY $130.16 per year.

For further particulars address William F. Hart, General Agent

RELIANCE LIFE INSURANCE CO.
BEDFORD, PA.

Special Piano Sale Now On At Pate's Furniture Store, Bedford, Pa., by A. Sammel.

A new stock of Pianos just arrived will be sold at exceptionally low prices while they last. Do not fail to see and examine this stock before buying. It will pay you. I am here to stay and guarantee satisfaction. Old Instruments taken in exchange; payments if desired. Will shortly be in a position to do tuning and repair work on short notice.

A. SAMMEL, Bedford, Pa.

Mann's Choice Summer Normal A select term of ten weeks will open April 26, 1909. Two courses provided for.

J. KIMBER GRIMM, Prin.
H. H. MATZ, Assistant.
Graduates Reg. Course with Electives. Millersville Normal School.

Wanted, For Sale, Rent, Etc.

Little Jewel medicated chick feed for sale at H. H. Lysinger's mill.

For Sale—Yearling colt. H. L. Shoemaker, King, Pa. Mar 26-27.

Wanted at Once—Clean cotton rags, no small ones. Call at Gazette office.

CLOVER SEED! CLOVER SEED!

Large and small seed for sale at Adam F. Diehl's butcher shop, Bedford, Pa. Mar. 5, 5-t.

For Sale—Single and Double Comb Rhode Island Red Eggs, 50c per setting. Milton Sammel, Bedford, Pa.

Carnations, hyacinths, tulips and crocuses on hand for Easter. Cabbage and tomato plants now ready. Levi Smith, Florist. Mar 26-27.

STOVE WOOD AND LOCUST POSTS Cut to order and delivered promptly; leave orders at Wolf's Cigar Store. Posts any length. Chas. T. Gilchrist.

For Sale—Barred Plymouth Rock and R. I. Red eggs, exclusively; 50c for 15. C. W. Nagler, Bedford, Pa. Apr. 2, 1m.

Having sawed my slab pile into stove lengths, I am prepared to deliver wood cheap. County phone. Frank Gehbart, Rt. 3. Mar 26-27.

For Sale—Oak Sideboard, Oak Book Case and double Iron Bed, brass trimmings and wire springs. Apply to Joseph J. Barclay, Bedford. M26tf

Wanted—$4,000 on 5 and 10 year term. Bonds, interest payable in March each year, by Bloomfield Twp. I. R. Barley, Sec. Road Commission, Baker's Summit, Pa. Mar. 26-tf.

For Sale—Tate Building, Juliana Street and Public Square dwelling, offices and storerooms; for further information address Jo. W. Tate, Bedford.

For Sale—Registered Poland China Hogs, all ages, both sexes. Pure bred, single-comb, White Leghorn hens; orders booked for breeders, eggs, and day-old chicks. JOE DONAHOE, Belden, Pa. Mar. 12-1m.

AUCTIONEER

I will call all sales and auctions on reasonable terms. Frank J. Smith, Bedford, Pa., R. F. D. No. 1. Apr. 2

Pianos Moved in Safety

A. Sammel, agent for the celebrated Blasius Pianos and others, is now thoroughly equipped to move and handle pianos with perfect ease and safety. All work of this class entrusted to his care will receive prompt and careful attention.

Get your printing done at THE GAZETTE job rooms.

For Rent—Room No. 3, second floor Ridenour block; has wash basin, hot and cold water. Suitable for law office, or a splendid room for dressmaker.

Also, Room No. 5, same floor; suitable for office. Apply at Ridenour's Jewelry Store. Apr. 2, 2-t.

Wanted—A good company writing best sick, accident and Natural death policy on earth, same rate for all occupations, desires special agents to handle farm, country and town trade. Good Pay. Can handle as a side line. Address Box 154, Scranton, Pa.

S. J. McVicker has purchased a new, up-to-date wagon from A. B. Brightbill and Son for his pop business. The wagon is a very pretty one and is a credit both to the builder and the purchaser. If you need a wagon or a buggy call on A. B. Brightbill and Son, shop in rear of Bedford House.

ROOFING, SPOUTING, ETC.

"Honest Work and Honest Prices" is our motto.

H. F. PRICE.

Shop near Fisher House.

Farm For Sale 7.000

Profit-Paying Farms in 14 States. Strout's New Monthly Bulletin of Real Estate, profoundly illustrated, mailed free; we pay your R. R. fare. E. A. STROUT CO., Book C. I. World's Largest Farm Dealers, 427 E. 12th Bldg., Phila. March 19, 13-t.

SORELLSBURG NORMAL SCHOOL will open April 26, 1909, and continue ten weeks. Examination at close of term. Thorough Review Course in Common Branches, also a Course in the Higher Branches. Fully equipped to meet all requirements for Professional and Provisional Certificates.

Tuition rate 75c per week for Regular Course. Boarding rates very low. For further information address,

GEORGE L. WOLFE, or
Rev. H. W. BENDER.

WHEN A MAN LIVES CLEAR UP TO HIS INCOME

he owes it to his family and his business to provide adequate life insurance.

The unexpected is always happening.

THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY,

J. Roy Cessna, General Agent, Ridenour Block, Bedford, Pa.

TRESPASS NOTICE

All persons are hereby notified not to trespass or fish on the Steckman Tannery property. James Steckman. April 2, 2t.

WOODS LIVER MEDICINE

For Chills, Fever, Malaria. Acts on the Liver. Price 50c and $1.00.

Barnett's Store

House Cleaning

That dreadful time is at hand. We have lots of helps at moderate prices that will make the work easy for you.

We have the best Brooms now that we ever handled, at 25c to 50c. A special favorite with our trade is an exceeding light broom with a cane handle—elegant quality and extra good value at 35c.

12-quart Galvanized Buckets, splendid quality, at only 18c.

Bissell's Carpet Sweepers—complete line; their best goods at $4. Some as low as $2.50.

Lye of all kinds, Soaps, Scrub and White-wash Brushes, Metal and Silver Polishes, Tack Hammers, Tacks and Upholstering Nails and many other useful and seasonable articles at saving prices.

If you are just beginning housekeeping, we know we can save you considerable on your kitchen and household needs. There is no doubt that some room in your home will need a new Carpet, Shades, Curtains, Wall Paper or a Rug.

We are in shape to serve you with the best Linoleums on the market, having recently received a big lot from the Potter Mills. Come in and see what we have to show you at 50c a yard.

Elegant Brussels Rugs 9x12 at the very special price of $13.75 for a few days only. These rugs are worth regularly $20. Any size you wish made to order.

Surrounded by Luxury

Yes, there is such a thing as luxury in writing papers. If you have been using an unsatisfactory, unknown paper for your social correspondence you will especially enjoy the sensation of putting your pen to an writing paper. The beautiful texture and inimitable writing surface of these luxurious papers lend to correspondence an added joy, both for the writer and the recipient.

EATON, CRANE & PIKE

There are many kinds of Eaton, Crane & Pike writing papers, and every kind is perfectly correct and in the best of taste. We carry a full line of them, ranging widely in price, and will be pleased to have you call and look them over.

Mackerel

A half barrel of fancy, bright fish in today. Fat and juicy—only 10c each.

Our Corset Department

Deserves Your Closest Consideration

We have used the greatest care in selecting our models. Only those that we know we can guarantee for style, fit and service are shown. This is the reason we unhesitatingly feature the Warner Corsets.

They are non-rustable, double boned and double stripped throughout to prevent the bones from wearing through. We endorse Warner Corsets as one of the most satisfactory, moderate priced corsets on the market. It combines in construction, design and artistry, all of the essentials that the particular woman requires.

A good idea of the possibilities of a Warner Corset can be gained from the illustration, style 253, for the average figure; designed to give the long, smooth, flattened back and slender hip effect; has a deep, soft extension over the abdomen; made of fine grade Batiste; handsomely trimmed. Price only $1.25. For a detailed and convincing knowledge, visit our corset department. We will gladly explain the various points of superiority in Warner Corsets.

Handsome White Waists

Fine Lingerie garments, very elaborate front of Embroidery Stripes, Val. Lace, Insertions and Pin Tucks. Back and sleeves trimmed to match front. Gibson collar of lace. Price only $1.50. Other handsome models from $1 to $3.

Easter Gowns

We are showing some handsome new materials in Silk Mixtures suitable for the new Easter Suit at very moderate prices, 25 to 50c. These fabrics include almost every shade and are certainly very desirable for the early spring gown.

Oxfords

In a week or two you'll need low footwear. We ask you to come here to see the pretty models we are showing at $2 to $3. New designs are coming in almost daily, and many combination effects are shown this spring in ladies' footwear

Barnett's Store

BEDFORD, PA.

